Lindbergh, as Usual Incas and Uncle Sam Moses and the Oil Well Home, Motor, Radio

By Arthur Brisbane

Copyright, 1928, by Star Co.

IN THE MACHINE that took him across the Atlantic, Lindbergh finished on Monday a 1200-mile non-stop flight from Havana to St. Louis in 15 hours and 6 minutes. He could have done it in 12 hours, but, wise young man, he realizes that his task is to establish the safety of flying, not to do stunts. He never overtaxes engine or plane.

His "leisurely" flight means passengers before long will fly comfortably across the continent in 30 hours. The multi-engine plane will do the work. Lindbergh, who flew to France with one engine, says, "Long flights over water call for the three-engine plane."

Dr Trujillo of Tlaxcala, Mexico, hunting for treasure, discovers an old city whose inhabitants manufactured spears, arrows and war clubs for the Aztecs. Thousands were found in the ruins, the Aztec God of War presiding there.

That "munition factory" is no more out of date today than the Krupp factory with its cannon and the shipyards with their antiquated battleships will be in the next war.

It is unfortunate that no explorer in this country could find a Government plant for manufacturing fighting airships.

At Gorham, Kan., thanks were rendered by a clergyman to celebrate the "bringing in" of a 1000-barrel oil well.

When Moses smote the rock and brought in water, the achievement was remarkable.

But bringing in oil so that midwest farmers can enjoy winter sunshine in Florida, California, or in the Gulf States, instead of wading through mud and snow to the barn, at four in the morning by lantern light, was remarkable and more important.

Mr. Bonfils, through his Denver Post, tells the world he wants "every family in the United States to own a home, automobile and radio," because "this would tremendously increase the happiness and prosperity of all our people."

Some will detect a "dash of socialism" in the suggestion that EVERY family should own a home, automobile and a radio.

It would have seemed preposterous in Rome to suggest that anybody but the emperor and a few of the great should own a bathtub. There was serious protest against installing the first bathtub in the White House, on the ground that it was not democratic. The Bonfils trinity, of comfortable home, automobile and radio, for every family, will be realized, plus freedom from worry, in old age, which is more important.

Important is the suggestion that Congress "provide three

Poisoned Pair Died to Tune of Jazz

LIVES END 'WHEN DAY IS DONE'

New Bedford, Feb. 15—A jazz song, "When Day Is Done," played a leading part today in the investigation of the deaths of Mrs. Helen Kenyon, blonde proprietress of a beauty parlor, and Charles F. Simone, salesman of Providence, found dead in an apartment here and believed by police to be victims of poisoning.

The phonograph had run down while playing the jazz tune. Before it was finished, the couple were dead.

Although Dr. Charles Shanks, associate medical examiner, said he would make a preliminary report of death by carbon monoxide, the police announced that they would continue their investigation and demand an autopsy if poison clues developed

Coupled with a suspicion that the couple might have died in a love pact, while playing their swan song on the phonograph, was a theory that they had swallowed poison unknowingly.

Wine, found in the apartment is being analyzed and the authorities are seeking clues that would indicate foul play. Friends of the dead man and woman will be questioned.

Preliminary investigation led the authorities to believe that the poison was mixed into either the wine or coffee they had been drinking.

Mrs. Kenyon, whose real name was Sarah Ellen Tootle, was the last of the two to die. She was found clad in a Chinese silk kimono in a bedroom of the apartment which she rented and sometimes used as a beauty shop here, in addition to her regularly established

N. Y. Bar Proposes Repeal of the 18th Amendment

New York, Feb 15 (AP)—Resolutions advocating the repeal of the 18th amendment to the Constitution, the Volstead Act and all orders for their enforcement were adopted by the Association of the Bar of the city of New York at a closed meeting.

The resolutions proposed delegating prohibition problems to the individual states on the grounds that federal legislation of this nature is in conflict with the bill of rights and "inconsistent with the spirit and purpose of the Constitution of the United States."

SUGGESTS STATE BUY 'EL' ROAD

Purchase of the Elevated by the Commonwealth, with subsequent leasing to private management, was set forth as an ideal solution of the present rapid transit problem, by Henry I. Harriman, chairman of the Metropolitan Planning Division, in an amendment to his Elevated bills, filed with legislative committees today.

Mr. Harriman qualified the suggestion, however, by stating the division had not recommended this action because they knew of no private company with adequate capital and the necessary experience, to whom the road could be leased.

While this amendment was being filed Representative Francis Q. Coyne of Dorchester introduced in the House a resolve prohibiting any

MISSING SUBMARINE S20 IN PORT 10 HOURS LATE

Portsmouth, N. H., Feb. 15—While vessels in three ports prepared to form a searching fleet and powerful navy wireless stations along the coast frantically sought to get in touch with her, the submarine S20, hours overdue on her run from New London, Ct., anchored in Portsmouth harbor today.

An accident to her radio aparatus was believed by navy officials to have been responsible for failure to reach her once by wireless during the 25 hours consumed in making port.

The submarine was expected here at midnight, but did not arrive until 10 a. m.

The fact that a gale blew off the coast during the night and that another is due tonight added to the

$25,000 DECIMO FEE LEGAL, SAYS BARRETT

Atty.-Gen. Arthur K. Reading acted as "advisory counsel" in affairs of the Decimo Club, it was declared today by Herbert L. Barrett, State street attorney and counsel for the club, when interviewed relative to the investigation of the organization.

Barrett refused, however, to state whether or not he turned over to Atty.-Gen. Reading a fee of $25,000 paid by the club to Barrett.

"I decline to say whether I turned this [illegible] to the attorney-general," said Barrett.

Asked if the $25,000 payment constituted a legitimate fee, the attorney asserted: "Yes, there was no taint on the money at all. It was received legitimately for legal work done legitimately.

"I will repeat simply that Mr. Reading acted as advisory counsel for the club."

Earlier in the day, Atty.-Gen. Reading himself had denied emphatically that he was in any way connected with the Decimo Club at the time that, as attorney-general, he was making official investigation into the club's affairs.

He added that the investigation

U. S.-BRITISH TREATY WOULD 'OUTLAW' WAR

London, Feb. 15 (INS)—War is virtually "outlawed" in the proposed draft of an arbitration treaty between the United States and England.

Godfrey Locker Lampson, Under-Secretary of Foreign Affairs, announced in the House of Commons today that the proposals, as submitted by the United States, contain a clause condemning war "as an instrument of policy" in the future relations between the two powers. There is a similar clause in the recently signed Franco-American arbitration treaty.

Washington, Feb. 15 (INS)—Italy has formally signified her desire to negotiate a new arbitration treaty with the United States, to replace the Root treaty, which expired in 1924.

The State Department announced today that negotiations would begin shortly. They will be conducted here, through the Italian ambassador, Nobile de Martino.

SOBS STORY OF FINDING DOOR BROKEN OPEN ON NIGHT SISTER WAS SLAIN

Telling a pathetic story of her sister's last day of life, Dorothy Mills, 24, sister of Grace Mills, whom Joseph Foster Buckley is charged with murdering, broke down several times today on the witness stand in Superior Court, at East Cambridge, where Buckley is on trial.

Once she collapsed completely under the strain. Sobbing violently, she had to be half led, half carried through the courtroom, which was packed to the doors with spectators, and taken to a rest room where her mother and two doctors hurried to aid her.

Defense Attorney George L. Ellsworth despatched a defense witness, Dr. Francis P. McCarthy, to her side, while Dist.-Atty. Bushnell sent an aide to get Dr. Thomas P. Gallagher, medical examiner, who had shortly before finished testifying as a government star witness.

CLASH THRILLS CROWD.

Dist.-Atty. Bushnell then announced that the government's case against the 23-year-old Weston youth was at an end. A recess was ordered by Judge Dubuc, but at its close Dorothy Mills had to return to the stand for another ordeal of cross-examination.

The record crowd of spectators, some of whom carried lunches so as to hold their seats during noon recess, was stirred earlier in the session by a clash between Atty. Ellsworth, the district attorney and the witness, Dr. Gallagher.

This was precipitated by an intimation by Ellsworth that he considered Dr. Gallagher "pulled a bone" from the prosecution's point of view in some of his testimony.

While the medical examiner modified his previous testimony in some respects under a cross-fire of questions by Atty. Ellsworth, the State scored heavily when Dorothy Mills,

ASKS FEDERAL PROBE OF UNEMPLOYMENT IN U. S.

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—An investigation of unemployment in the continental United States by the Secretary of Labor was proposed in a resolution introduced today by Sen. Wagner, Democrat, New York. The secretary would make his report to the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 15 (INS)—Shorter hours and a five-day week were proposed today by the American Federation of Labor as a solution of the unemployment problem.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation, said:

"A shorter working day and a five-day week in industries where it could be applied would help materially. A slowing down of production would also aid."

He attributed the reduction in the number of employes principally to mass production and increased use of machinery. Federation officials are investigating to find remedies for the problem.

Conservative estimates at the Labor Department place the number of unemployed at approximately 3,500,000. The New York labor bureau recently fixed the figure at 4,000,000.

Department officials divided the unemployed as follows:

Persons who won't work, 1,000,000.

following the doctor on the witness stand, told her story.

FINDS DOOR BROKEN.

Dorothy asserted that, on the morning of November 16, when her sister was missing from her sleeping porch bed, she found the screen of the door broken, indicating that the door was opened from the outside.

Grace Mills was shot to death while on a midnight auto ride with Buckley. The defendant contends she met him voluntarily. Her family has repeatedly insisted she must have been taken away against her will.

But when Dorothy resumed testifying the defense brought out that she slept on the first floor of the house that night and heard no call from Grace, though her ear was tuned for calls from her ailing sister. Her voice quivered and she again broke down as she testified, causing another long delay.

Dorothy Mills also revealed that, on the previous afternoon, Grace, who had long suffered from heart trouble, had achieved an objective by walking to the store and was overjoyed at the prospects of ultimate recovery—in no mood for suicide.

The witness frankly admitted that she objected to Buckley's calling on Grace, and even sent him away from the house on one or two occasions. She said he was shiftless.

"HE MADE NOISE."

"I had given up my own work for four months in order to devote all my time to caring for my ill sister, and I did not want him coming to the house and upsetting her," she said. "While we were cheering her up he would be telling her that folks said she could never get well.

"When we had signs in front of the house, asking for quiet because there was serious illness, he drove up and down, blowing his auto horn and playing a harmonica. He objected to Grace receiving presents on her birthday from other fellows, and said she was 'mine and mine only.'

"When I got home on the afternoon of November 15, the last day my sister was alive, she was lying down. 'I am tired,' she said. 'But I have had a wonderful time this afternoon. I walked to the store and back. It took me 20 minutes, but I did it and I want you to take me riding this evening.'

WITNESS SOBS.

"I helped Grace to dress, helped her into the little gray dress that she was found in the next day—"

The witness choked with sobs at this juncture and was unable to continue for five minutes. She took up the thread of her story again by saying that Grace had on the gray dress when she was killed.

"She was very cheerful that night, happier than she had been for a long time. She was planning to go to the hospital on Saturday to tell the doctors and nurses how she was getting well so nicely.

"We returned from riding at 9:30. Grace played solitaire and then got ready to go to bed. I wrapped her in her blanket and she asked me if the sleeping porch door was locked.

"I went and locked the door myself. I put up the hook."

"Could that door be opened from the outside?" asked Dist.-Atty. Bushnell. "Yes," she replied. "Very easily. I noticed the next morning that the screen was broken away.

'BUCKLEY'S DONE SOMETHING.'

"It was 11:30 when she went to bed that night, and that was the last time I saw her alive. At 6 the next morning I went to awaken her. The very first thing I noticed was the screen pushed in, even before I looked at the bed. When I turned to the bed Grace was not there.

"Calling to my brother Bill, I told him something had happened. 'Esther Buckley has done something to Grace,' I cried. We went out in the car and saw Buckley's auto on Main st. (Waltham).

"My brother went over to a policeman standing near it. 'Have you got any report on Buckley?' he asked. The policeman replied, 'You mean the fellow who shot the girl?'

"That was all. That was the end. We went to the hospital and they wouldn't let me see Grace. She was dead. Though she didn't have an enemy in the world."

Questioned further, she said she had told Buckley that no man would marry Grace unless he was the proper person, that she and her brother Bill would support Grace as long as she lived, if necessary. She said she pitied Buckley because when he first came to Waltham he had no work and no home.

SLEPT ON FLOOR.

"He stayed with us seven weeks, until we couldn't afford to board him free any longer," she testified. "We asked him to leave. He did and he got several jobs, but he would throw them up after quarrels with Grace.

"Once I arrived home to find him asleep on the living-room floor. He said he had no place to go. We let him stay awhile."

"Was your sister in love with Buckley?" she was asked in cross-examination. "She liked him, that's the most I ever heard her say," said the girl. She said she knew Grace had written to Buckley, but would be surprised to learn she loved him.

"Did you and Grace, Buckley and a man named Archie Cotter go out riding together in Buckley's automobile?" She said they all had.

"Wasn't Archie a married man?" She answered: "Yes, I learned that afterward."

"PULLING BONES"

After causing Dr. Gallagher to modify some important parts of his testimony, Atty. George L. Ellsworth endeavored to show that, using the lawyer's own words, the doctor "pulled a bone" in some of his statements.

"Since your testimony yesterday, haven't you talked with the district attorney and hasn't he told you of the bone or bones you pulled in your testimony?" the attorney asked.

The medical examiner's answer was a sharp "No, sir," and District Attorney Bushnell was on his feet. Instead of voicing an objection, all in the courtroom anticipated, the prosecutor turned on Ellsworth and shouted:

"You are the only one who has pulled any bones."

Attorney Ellsworth led up to his question by placing great emphasis on the doctor's testimony that he found the dead girl's heart in such condition that it indicated that, regardless of any shooting, she was only barely clinging to life.

SAY SHE WAS HAPPY.

This was an apparent contradiction to previous government testimony which was to the effect that Grace, although having suffered from heart trouble, was on the road to recovery and was cheerful in her outlook on life—a blow aimed at Buckley's claim that Grace shot herself.

Ellsworth also forced Dr. Gallagher to admit that, while it was unlikely the girl shot herself because of the position in which she would have had to hold the gun to do so, it was possible.

In 18 years experience, Dr. Gallagher asserted, he had never heard of anyone committing suicide by holding a gun with his right hand against his left breast and pulling the trigger with the thumb, as would have been necessary in this instance.

"But," asked the defense attorney, "have you ever seen anyone shoot himself or another?" "No," replied the witness.

"Do you say Grace Mills could not have fired that shot?" "It was entirely possible," testified Dr. Gallagher.

"As a matter of fact, it would have been easy for her to have done it, wouldn't it?" "It can be done."

"Couldn't she have pushed the trigger with her thumb?" "There is a bare possibility of that, a remote possibility."

"You said she had only a short time to live in any case, did you not?"

"I said that her condition indicated that the valves of the heart were in bad shape."

free on $2,500 bail on the conspiracy charges.

The indictment alleges that in testifying in his own defense, Magnus perjured himself by denying acquaintanceship with the other two defendants; by denying that he ever owned or used the speed boat Peg III or ever owned or operated the rum schooner I'm Alone; by denying acquaintanceship with the husband of Josephine Hunt, his private secretary, and by denying that during 1925 he owned or made use of any real estate in the vicinity of Plymouth, whereas he did own one or more camps at Harlow's Landing and that he or his agents took that property in the names of J. C. and Paul Sykes.

The government is ready to proceed at once with the perjury trial, giving it preference over a new trial for conspiracy.

George A. Callahan, Magnus bookkeeper, who was called by the government as a surprise rebuttal witness after Magnus had testified for himself, has been in daily conference with federal authorities since the end of the trial.

Steps are being taken by U. S. Dist.-Atty. Thomson for a new trial of Magnus, who is a resident of Newton, and Carl H. Halvarin, former executive officer of Coast Guard Base 5, as to whose guilt the jury also disagreed.

beauty shop at 608 Main st., Fall River.

The woman, who was a perfect type of blonde and unusually attractive, had died only a short time before she had been found, it was believed.

Simone, clad in shirt, trousers and shoes was found on a couch in the living room of the apartment, which was separated from the bedroom by a portiere. Medical authorities believed he was dead at least five hours before death claimed the woman.

This angle of the case caused the greatest mystery, inasmuch as officials believed a quick-acting drug had snuffed out their lives, but the man had died five hours before the girl.

Simone's home was at 72 Walawright st., Providence. The was employed by a Providence firm as a traveling man.

Mrs. Kenyon was separated from her husband, police said. She was known here and in Fall River by the name of Kenyon, but members of her family stated that was not her real name. Her mother, Mrs. Hannah Tootle, lives in Fairhaven and a sister lives at 33 Branscomb st., this city.

Four men, whose curiosity had been aroused by a light burning in the apartment in the Cobb block in the Lunds Corner section, discovered the bodies. Charles Morrissette of 2184 Rousinet ave., Samuel Hand, Frank Fraites and Ernest Price, janitor of the building, broke down a door and entered, after their calls went unanswered.

'MANY THINGS TO BE DONE YET,' HE SAYS

St. Louis, Feb. 15 (AP)— Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh will continue his work of experimental flying, despite the hazards connected with it. He said, however, that he had no definite plans at the present except to try to rest in private life. He will make St. Louis his home.

"There are so many things to be done," he said. "Improvements in aviation are certain. They must come and they cannot be made unless experiments are made. If I am killed I shall consider the sacrifice worth while."

As Lindbergh was leaving the hangar following an exhibition flight before 60,000 school children along the river front, he was stopped by a reporter who asked him his opinion of Secretary of War Davis' proposal that he stop stunt flying.

"Of course I can't answer that off hand and say what my course will be," Lindbergh replied. "I don't consider what I have been doing as hazardous flying in the sense that I have taken unnecessary risks. At the outset 'when new methods of transportation are coming into use there must be pioneers to show the way and some of them are killed."

"Have you any particular flights in mind?"

"No," he replied. "There are so many things to be done."

"But for the present there is no cause for worry," he added with a smile. "From now on, until further notice, I am in retirement."

EX-WIFE HOPES HAMMER FIEND DIES IN CHAIR

Portland, Me., Feb. 15—"I would not like to testify against him, but I hope he goes to the electric chair; he deserves it."

With these bitter words, Mrs. Cornelia Campbell swept away today any possibility that she might come to the defense of C. C. Campbell, once her husband but now accused in Philadelphia, of murdering another wife in New York hotel.

Campbell, according to information from New York, was expected to be indicted today in that state for first degree murder. The woman he is alleged to have confessed murdering was formerly Mary Lyle McLean of Lynn, Mass.

ASK BAN ON ALL UNDER 16 IN FACTORIES

Prohibition of children under 16 years of age from the factories throughout the State was urged at a legislative hearing today by social workers, labor leaders and others.

Creighton Hill, director of labor at the Babson Institute, discussing the textile competition from the South, declared that agitation is being made there for shorter hours and that eventually it will follow Massachusetts in its protective laws for women and children in industry. The bill is before the Legislature on petition of the League of Women Voters.

LESS THAN 2 PER CENT.

He estimated that fully 30,000 children would be affected by the bill, which, however, is less than 2 per cent of the total number of wage earners of the State.

Herbert C. Parsons, deputy probation commissioner, claimed that there is nothing to show that we keep children in good behavior by keeping them employed in industry.

That in Massachusetts the percentage of children injured by machinery is 36.5 per cent for those under 16 years of age, was revealed by Mrs. Roland D. Baker, chairman of the child welfare committee of the League of Women Voters.

NONE UNDER 16.

Henry P. Benson, president of the Naumkeag Cotton Mills of Salem, for the bill, said that of 1600 employes in those mills, but 93 were between 16 and 18 and none under 16 years.

He claimed that children between 14 and 16 are unsuitable for industry in that they lack the necessary intelligence. Many parents, he said, lie to get their children into the mills who are under age.

On the other hand, John S. Lawrence, president of the New England Council, speaking as a member of the Massachusetts Council, sug-

3-ALARM BLAZE AT SOUTH END; LOSS $10,000

Fear that lives would be lost prompted fire officials to sound a third alarm when fire swept the five-story brick building at 109 West Brookline st., causing $10,000 damage and rousing dozens of families early today.

The blaze was discovered by Patrolman Saunders. He saw flames issuing from a second-story window and turned in the alarm. The structure is occupied as a junk warehouse by S. Alpiin & Son and Lindstrom Sign Company.

When the first piece of apparatus arrived a second alarm was sounded in accordance with Commissioner Hultman's recent ruling, that no chances be taken in congested districts.

Licking tongues of flames almost touched two wooden dwellings on either side of the blazing structure, but fortunately they were unoccupied. But the roar of the fire and the screeching of the sirens roused many families from slumber and sent them in night clothes to the street panic stricken.

The blaze, according to police, was caused by combustion. Not before the flames had penetrated through to the top story did the firemen succeed in checking them.

Admiral Plunkett Retires

New York, Feb. 15 (AP)—Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, whose vigorous pleas for preparedness and a larger navy recently caused a stir, on his 64th birthday anniversary today retired after 43 years service. He was in command of the third naval district.

VETERANS PAY TRIBUTE TO MEMORY OF HER DEAD

Today the mast of the historic vessel in Arlington Cemetery was a mecca for veterans of Spanish-American War to pay tribute to the memory of the two officers and 264 men who were killed when the Maine was sunk. Margaret E. Burns, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans, and Ethel A. Jones of the Lineal Society, had wreaths from President Coolidge to place at the base of the shaft. Nearby, in the riding hall at Ft. Myer, Va., another group of the United Spanish War Veterans, listened to addresses by Assistant Secretary of War Robbins, Dr. Rafael R. Altunaga, counsellor of the Cuban embassy, and Gen. John J. Garrity, commander-in-chief of the veterans.

BULLETS HALT TWO BOYS IN STOLEN CAR

Two Charlestown youths were captured by three City sq. patrolmen today in a stolen automobile, after a four-mile chase marked by gun fire by the pursuers.

The chase began on Bunker Hill st. and continued until the fugitive car was stopped at Broadway and Bow st., Somerville, when the hoys began to fear that the shots were coming too close.

The two were Kenneth Sidons of Auburn st., Charlestown, and Thomas Brenick, 14 years old, of Bunker Hill st.

apprehension felt in naval circles and at Boston, New London and the port destroyers prepared to leave on a hunt for the missing undersea craft.

Seas caused by the gale probably placed the S20's wireless out of commission, it was pointed out, for since the S4 disaster Navy Department orders have necessitated submarines constantly keeping in touch with shore stations while en route from port to port.

High-Heeled Girls Sent Home by Mill Owner

Henry P. Benson, president of the Naumkeag Cotton Mills, Salem, has n opatience with girls who wear high heels at his mills.

"They present one of the greatest menaces to health and safety," he told the legislative committee on labor and industries today supporting a bill to eliminate children under 16 from mill employment.

"If a girl comes to work on high heels she is sent home to put on other shoes," he said.

gested the legislature consider reduced taxation, night work for women in the textile industries and a relaxation of the general labor laws regarding the employment of women.

Mr. Lawrence said the Council sponsors no specific legislation nor laws, but wished to call attention to the three matters named in an effort to relieve the distressed Massachusetts industries.

Others to speak for the bill were John Van Vaerenewyck, president of the State Branch of the American Federation of Labor; Alfred Baker Lewis, Miss Ethel Johnson, associate commissioner of Labor and Industries, Charles L. Reed, and Daniel R. Donovan of the Worcester Central Labor Union.

PAN-AMERICAN CONVENTION ADOPTED

Havana, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Pan-American Union committee adjourned today until 5 o'clock tomorrow morning after voting unanimous adoption of the protected convention reorganizing the Pan-American Union. Argentine was not represented and her committee vote was not recorded.

Dr. Horacio Pueyrredon, head of the Argentine delegation, failed to appear when the committee met this morning, and th re was much agitation when it was reported he had resigned from the delegation, with the possibility of his resignation also from the ambassadorship at Washington.

Even the Argentine delegates were unable to locate their chairman, but finally he was reached by the Associated Press correspondent by telephone, and he refused to deny or confirm reports of his resignation. He asserted, however, that he had not taken part in the session of the Pan-American Union committee this morning because he probably would have been obliged to vote on the convention as it is now worded, and while determined not to vote in its favor, he still did not desire to vote against it, out of regard for certain schools of thought in Argentina, which wanted him to vote in its favor.

Senor Olascoaga, second in command of the Argentine delegation who it was reported might replace Dr. Pueyrredon at the committee meeting, appeared at the Argentine headquarters about noon and declared he could not enter the committee meeting because he had not received orders from the chairman of the delegation to do so, and, in addition, he was not a member of the committee.

HICKMAN, HUNT ON TRIAL FOR NEW MURDER

Los Angeles, Feb. 15 (INS)—William Edward Hickman went on trial for murder a second time today when the convicted kidnaper-slayer of Marion Parker, together with his confessed bandit confederate, Welby Hunt, were made to answer for the fatal shooting of C. Ivy Thoms in a drug store holdup on Christmas Eve, 1926.

They were ordered to trial by Superior Judge Elliott Craig, who denied a second motion by Hickman's counsel seeking a continuance until Monday.

Thirty minutes before the trial Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy refused a similar motion for continuance.

Eight men and four women sat in the box when the selection of a jury was begun.

Following the example set by Judge Trabuco in the Parker trial, Judge Craig personally examined the tentative jurors. He asked them collectively the preliminary questions designed to speed the choice of a jury.

Hunt, who previously pleaded "not guilty," stood on his original plea. His attorney, A. Gray Gilmer of Oklahoma City, had indicated he would have Hunt change his plea to guilty and turn state's evidence.

Hickman, through his attorneys, Walsh and Richard Camillon, entered a dual plea of not guilty and "not guilty by reason of insanity."

THOUSANDS AT FUNERAL OF 2 SLAIN POLICEMEN

Providence, Feb. 15 (AP)—Thousands today attended double funeral services for Sergt. William A. Ryan and Patrolman James H. O'Brien, shot by Nathan Brown, a negro, during a prohibition raid here. Following services at the homes of the policemen a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated at SS. Peter and Paul's Cathedral, with many city officials in attendance.

M'DONALD ADVOCATES STATE HOUSING BOARD

Living conditions in the so-called slums of Boston were characterized as "disgraceful" today by William J. McDonald, prominent real estate dealer, at a hearing before a committee of the Legislature.

McDonald advocated establishing a State board of housing to provide for the construction and supervision of dwellings and the letting of apartments at reasonable rentals.

PORTLAND MAN HEADS N. E. GAS BODY

W. G. Stiles of Portland was elected president of the New England Gas Association today at the first session of the two-day second annual meeting at Hotel Statler.

Other officers for the ensuing fiscal year are: First vice-president, J. J. Quinn, Quincy; second vice-president, A. H. Scott, New Britain, Ct.; treasurer, F. D. Cadwallader, Boston, and secretary, E. A. Taylor, Providence.

Remarkable progress is being made in New England in the gas industry, William Gould of Boston, retiring president, told about 1000 members.

He advocated establishing stores for sale and display of fixtures, a "rate structure" to increase the number of meters in use and a special rate for hot-water heating appliances. This country uses more hot water than any nation on earth, he declared.

An extensive program of national advertising is being drawn up by the American Gas Association, he said, and he urged the participation of all members in these plans. Committees of the New England organization are working in co-operation with the national.

The new officers made short addresses as did Alexander Forward, managing director of the American Gas Association. Forward described the present as an "age of giants" in industry, with an increasing realization of the value of uniting assets and purposes in specific lines.

Wm. Gould

C. D. Williams

That the gas companies of New England organize for the purpose of increasing activity in promoting industrial development, as other public utilities are doing, was the suggestion made to the association by John S. Lawrence, president of the New England Council. Mr. Lawrence told how the railroads, power companies, banks and other interests are working out definite programs to this end through committees co-operating with the New England Council.

BEAMS OF SOCIAL SPOTLIGHT ARE FALLING ON "THE AMATEURS" THIS EVENING AT WHITNEY HALL, BROOKLINE, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

Familiar Names Appear on the Cast Giving "Captain Jinks"

AMATEUR DRAMATICS THIS EVENING LOOM MOST IMPORTANT on local horizons. Devoted adherents of "The Amateurs" of Brookline will flock into Whitney Hall this evening, tomorrow evening and Friday to see just what this amateur aggregation can do with such a production as "Captain Jinks of the Horse Marines." Not that "The Amateurs" are in the least bit amateurish—except in nomenclature. Their successes are as numerous as the leaves on a tree, their laurel wreaths becoming very weighty, and their dramatic history a glittering document.

AS THE "MADAME TREN TONI" of Clyde Fitch's merry comedy, Mrs. Stephenson is amply endowed to make a hit. She has a delightful girlish prettiness sufficient to adorn the role made famous by Barrymore in the halcyon days of a Barrymore first appearance. Histrionically, she must be gifted, since "The Amateurs" entrust to her dainty hands the leading role—and "The Amateurs" ever were astute in this regard. Mr. Fawcett is the Captain Robert Carrolton Jinks of the "Horse Marines" and otherwise the cast is wisely allotted.

MISS SALLY PARKER
Who was prominent at Mrs. Wilbur Grant's dinner in the Algonquin Club for Count Felix von Luckner and his charming countess.

Reception Tendered Count Von Luckner at Algonquin Club

Grant entertained at the Algonquin Club for Count Felix von Luckner and his charming Countess. To say that the table decoration made a decided hit with the genial sea-rover honor guest is but putting it mildly. Mrs. Grant had nearly forty guests for the festivity—and was exceedingly smart in her straightline black chiffon with diamonds and pearls. Miss Sally Parker, in cell blue, was one of the young girls at this interesting festivity.

THE HORACE MORISONS, THE GEORGE SWINNERTON PARKERS and Colonel and Mrs. Belknap also were guests. And undoubtedly the belle and beauty of the dinner was the Countess. With her crown of golden hair like corn silk, sea blue eyes and the blackest of lashes, the Countess is a vision extremely eye-compelling. Her dinner costume was silver, delightfully chic and smartly modeled. Affairs official and social are being showered down on this notable couple, who are making the Copley-Plaza their headquarters during a Boston stay.

THE PROCESSION OF VISITING PERSONAGES IS REMARKably interesting. Sir Lawrence Weaver, over from England to speak of the "architecture" of gardens, flits briefly across the local screen. Yesterday, at the Hotel Statler, he sipped the "five o'clock" in true British dignity and met informally some eminent Bostonians who have a paramount interest in gardens and such. Mrs. Henry Channing, Mrs. Morton Prince, Mrs. Robert G. Dodge and Mrs. Frederick Beebe were in the tea company to meet Sir Lawrence.

MRS. HORACE MORISON, BEHIND THE TALL SILVER URN, poured the steaming beverage and looked very effective in gray velvet, adorned with some of the very beautifully wrought jewelry she owns that was brought to her by her father from Siberia when that gentleman was doing a world-girdling journey. Mrs Wilbur Grant was in dull black, with a brilliant ornament. Mrs. Bradbury Cushing wore black satin, with a handsome brilliant ornament in her smart chapeau. The British Consul General and Mrs. Gray, were of course, present on such an affair in honor of a compatriot.

ONE DEAD, ONE DYING, SIX INJURED, IN FIRE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP)—One fireman was killed, another received injuries that may prove fatal and six others were seriously hurt in a fire that destroyed the warehouse of the Roberts-Boyce Paper Company here today. The property loss was placed at $150,000.

Robert Fogg, a fireman, was killed under a falling wall. Clarence Close, who was buried under the debris, was reported in a critical condition from inhaling smoke.

Girl Fire Worshippers Must Die If Childless

Moscow, Feb. 13 (INS)—The remnant of a strange tribe of fire worshippers whose childless women hang cradles with dolls in the sacred temples and pray for motherhood, has just been discovered by Soviet scientists in the Caucasus mountains about 100 miles from Tiflis.

The existing temples of red tile date from the 11th and 12th centuries and are in a remarkable state of preservation. More than 100 candles and a hearth are kept burning night and day in each edifice.

Bringing forth new life is considered the greatest spiritual happiness for women. A girl, married or unmarried, who passes her 20th year without having a child must commit suicide.

"Nochrusa," or New Year's Day, is the big holiday of the year. The whole tribe of more than 15,000 women and children, with grotesque masks and painted bodies, gather in front of the temples and leap through flames from fires 100 in holes in the ground.

A SMART LUNCHEON PARTY AT THE HOTEL SHERATON had for its hostess that stately matron, Mrs. Charles Henry Fiske, whose crown of snow white hair singles her out for admiration in any assemblage. Luncheon guests to the number of ten were entertained, and later there was bridge. MR. AND MRS. FISKE HAVE FOUND AN APARTMENT AT the Sheraton, a pleasant solution of the living quarters question since Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bell (Marion Fenno) are this Winter occupying the Fiske house in Marlborough street; and in any event Mr. and Mrs. Fiske planned but a short Boston Winter as their first since the marriage in England last Spring. Mrs. John Abbott, leading light of the Repertory Club, has recently taken an apartment at the Hotel Sheraton. And also established there is Mrs. Francis Jewett.

MUSICALLY, EVEN THOUGH GRAND OPERA IS OVER, Boston continues to have set before it some high fare. The Charles Martin Loeffler concert in Symphony Hall next Sunday evening is in many ways an event. Because of Mr. Loeffler's place in the world of musicians and composers—because society is greatly interested—and particularly because in "Clowns" Mr. Loeffler is giving to the musical world his very first jazz composition.

MR. LOEFFLER'S TURNING TO THE MODERN VEHICLE FOR musical expression—jazz—is momentous, certainly. Leo Reisman's versatile troupe will interpret "Clowns" for Boston, for the first time, and Bostonians, avid for the newest in musical offerings, will be on hand Sunday evening in great numbers. This would be true even though Mr. Loeffler were not the distinguished figure he is in local circles—greatly beloved and having the Symphony aura. He was concertmeister at one time, and also soloist.

The astonishing price of the new, six-tube, FULL-VISION Dial, self-contained A.C. set includes everything except tubes and a speaker. No power accessories required—no batteries, no charger. For use with 110-115 volt, 60-cycle, Alternating Current. Uses six A.C. amplifying tubes, and one rectifying tube.
$88 without tubes
NOW you can!

"WE HAVE electricity in our homes," people said. "Why can't we use it for our radio?"

Now you can! The new self-contained Atwater Kent A. C. set is astonishingly efficient, simple and easy to buy. Thousands of families have already chosen it.

Some had never had radio before. Didn't want to bother with batteries. Some had battery sets and saw no need for changing until something really better came along. Tried the new Atwater Kent 37, with the FULL-VISION Dial. Found it is better—so much better that it's revolutionary—like having a car with a self-starter when you had been used to cranking by hand!

These searchers for something better have crowded into Atwater Kent dealers' stores in such numbers that we had to increase our production to more than 3,000 sets a day!

Try it yourself!

Try this new A. C. set yourself. The moment you do, you will realize why it has caused all this excitement—this nation-wide sensation.

It simply is the kind of Radio everybody hoped for—and it's here now! It is entirely new. New in internal circuit arrangement, new in outward appearance, new in many features found in no radio set in the world except an Atwater Kent.

The miles between you and the broadcasting studio seem as nothing because this set re-creates music and speech clearly. Extra precautions, such as shielding the cabinet and the built-in power supply, matching all the parts, 222 factory tests or inspections, assure that perfect harmony of action which means TONE.

Touch the FULL-VISION Dial!

When you bring in a station with the Atwater Kent ONE Dial, you will readily appreciate its advantages—it is a FULL-VISION Dial, you see it all at a glance. A touch of the fingers selects the station you want, without fumbling or delay. This speed and ease in selecting stations are due to this FULL-VISION Dial—one of the features of Atwater Kent Receiving Sets.

The price sets a new standard of radio value—because the universal popularity of Atwater Kent Radio enables us to have a big and modern factory and make fine radio economically.

People everywhere are finding this new A. C. set even better than they expected. Right now the air is full of good programs. The demand is enormous. Prudence says "Order NOW."

If you must use batteries

MODEL 33 is an extra-powerful, extra-selective, battery set. Designed for use where unusual results are necessary but A.C. electricity is not available. FULL-VISION Dial. Solid mahogany cabinet. Six tubes required. Price, without accessories, $75.

MAJ. BOURNE INJURED IN PARACHUTE DROP

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—Maj. Louis M. Bourne, Marine Corps aviator, had a sprained back and stiff neck today to remind him of newly acquired membership in the Caterpillar Club, that clique of aviators who have survived parachute jumps. Flying from Langley Field, Va., to Quantico, Maj. Bourne, who recently flew a transport plane to Nicaragua, was tossed about in a dense fog and electrical storm, with compass and other instruments disabled, and finally went overside with his parachute. The plane was wrecked in a woods near where Bourne landed.

There is nothing so disagreeable, that a patient mind can not find some solace for it. —Seneca.

COAL STRIKE INQUIRY FAVORED BY COMMITTEE

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today approved the resolution of Senator Johnson, Republican, California, for investigation of the bituminous coal situation in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia.

The resolution would call for an inquiry by the full committee, but it was amended to permit a sub-committee to carry on the study in the event it becomes necessary for hearings in the coal fields.

No Woman is Beautiful Who is "Skinny"

Gain Pounds of Weight in 3 Weeks with Yeast and Iron—or pay nothing
All over the country women and men are amazed at the almost magic effects of IRONIZED YEAST. After a single course treatment—thin, weak bodies are brought up in weight and strength. Flesh made round and firm. Hollows filled out. Skin made satiny smooth with the glow of girlhood. How is this done?
Yeast and Iron have always been considered two of the greatest body and blood builders by medical science. They contain those vital blood elements that build up flesh, correct skin and digestion troubles and enrich the blood. IRONIZED YEAST contains these ingredients in a highly concentrated form which give results in half the time required by yeast and iron taken separately.
IRONIZED YEAST gives you all the weight-building benefits contained in various sickening oils without upsetting the stomach.
So it is natural that after taking IRONIZED YEAST in this course treatment you will notice an amazing improvement in your health, appearance and spirits. The skin loses its sallow, pimply, blotchy look, pounds of good flesh are taken on and your digestion and bowel action are wonderfully improved.
So, don't have a skinny, weak body that looks as though it had never been fed enough. Don't go around with an ugly skin. Pleasant, tasty tablets in a handy package. Safe for everybody; contains no harmful drugs.
Try it on "Money-Back" Offer
Go today to any drug store and get a full size treatment. If, after this generous trial, you are not delighted with effects, ask for your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.00 direct to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga. 2256B 425-NB.

BEERY TO PLAY CHARACTER ROLES AGAIN

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 15—Wallace Beery can cease grinding his teeth and threatening to leave the screen. Paramount, after months of refusal to listen to Mr. Beery, have seen the light and from now on will permit their unhappy comedian to resume his former vocation as a character actor.

Only one more pie-throwing movie for Wally with his side-kick, Raymond Hatton, and then Jim Tully's excellent story, "Beggars of Life." Wally is so pleased that his face these days is wearing a perpetual grin.

One thing more. He has a hankering to play "Trader Horn" after he completes "Beggars of Life." But so far Paramount cannot see Trader Horn's tale in the screen. But Wally has hopes. After talking to E. P. Schuberg, Jesse L. Lasky and the rest into submission on the character proposition, nothing seems impossible.

I am afraid I agree with Wally. I never could see any sense in an actor of his ability doing the nonsensical slapstick that sometimes is funny but more often merely ridiculous. Wally graduated from all that when he left Essanay and Swedie comedies—years ago.

THE movies, after all, are not to compete with grand opera. "Pagliacci" sung by so many world-renowned operatic stars, will not be Al Jolson's next vitaphone picture for Warner Brothers. Mr. Jolson has very wisely decided not to compete with Caruso. Why should he when he is so successful in his own line of work.

I hear there are plans on foot to write a story based on "Mammy," his most successful song. At any rate he is in New York talking shop with Darryl Zanuck. That reminds me that Mr. and Mrs. Zanuck are back from Europe and will come West in a very short time.

Warner's Studio is due to open its doors March 15, when "Noah's Ark" and six other productions will get under way. We will all be glad when Warner's opens the shutters and begins work again.

JOINT CONCERT REVEALS NEW TALENTS

By MOSES SMITH

Aimee Ponchon, soprano, and William Simmons, tenor, made their Boston debuts in a joint recital at Jordan Hall before a large audience. This audience was extraordinarily enthusiastic, applauding the performers more than we can recall at any recent first concert.

And both singers seemed above the general average of artists presenting themselves to the public for the first time. Simmons began the concert with a group of French songs, and after the Schumann song-cycle, "Frauenliebe und Leben," sung by Miss Ponchon, he proceeded with four songs in English. Miss Ponchon also sang an English group. The concert closed with a duet from Massenet's "Manon." Thus the program as a whole had unity, even if the part contributed by each artist was not of wide variety.

Simmons has many things in his favor, and not a single important fault that can not be readily remedied. His enunciation was clear in both French and German songs. He has musical feeling, sense of style, a very pleasing voice, and a pleasing personality. His vocal technique seems to be built on a sound basis, but he lacks sureness and ease.

This plus excusable nervousness accounted for the lack of a smooth legato. Both in his choice of songs and in his delivery he has apparently chosen to follow John McCormack, and while his taste in models is to be commended, it should be said frankly that Simmons is not yet ready for this type of delivery. Nevertheless, a singer of talent and promise.

Of Miss Ponchon we may write praise less reserved. She was far more interesting in the Schumann group than in the other songs. She put in them much of the requisite feeling; and for a young singer showed art ability at coloring her tones. Her voice is fresh, of beautiful quality. In the English songs she tended to force, but even here her freedom was commendable.

NAVY PURCHASES 96 AIRPLANE ENGINES

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—Contract for 96 air-cooled airplane engines to cost $1,059,850 has been awarded the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Company at Hartford, Ct., by the Navy Department. The engines, known as the hornet type, with nine cylinders, developing 525 horsepower at 1900 revolutions per minute, are to be used in the Martin planes of the navy for sale and shore duty.

SHOTS FIRED IN CHASE OF BROCKTON THIEVES

Brockton, Feb. 15—After breaking into five local stores and being chased two miles by police who fired two shots, three young men abandoned a stolen auto early today when it crashed into a post at North Easton. The machine had been stolen from the home of its owner, Donald Rand of 233 Plain st., Stoughton.

Investigation showed $3 in pennies and a cheap watch had been taken in Howland Market, $4 in pennies from Vose Market.

PILSUDSKI'S OPPONENT BELIEVED IN AMERICA

Warsaw, Feb. 15 (INS)—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Gen. Zagorsky, opponent of President Pilsudski, who dropped from sight in May, 1927, may soon be cleared up.

It is believed that Zagorsky, who disappeared immediately after a conference with Marshal Pilsudski, is in the United States. Members of the Zagorsky family have just sailed for America. Zagorsky was a bitter political opponent of Pilsudski. His disappearance was followed by sensational reports.

$40,000 FIRE LOSS IN NEWPORT BUILDING

Newport, R. I., Feb. 15 (AP)—A general alarm was sounded at 4:30 a. m. today for a fire in the Covell building on Thames st., in the business district, where every building is of wood construction.

Water curtains kept the flames from spreading.

OFFICER FOILS MAN IN PARACHUTE 'DEATH LEAP'

Chicago, Feb. 15 (INS)—Officer Patrick Costello yanked James Smejkal, 47, from the railing of a bridge over the Chicago River. In Smejkal's pocket the officer found a small parachute. Smejkal said he intended to commit suicide and use the parachute to break the fall. He was sent to the Psychopathic Hospital.

TO GENERAL MOTORS DEALERS

A message which the public is invited to read

FOR the past year General Motors has been advising purchasers of new automobiles to remember the five basic facts regarding the trade-in of used cars, which are repeated at the left.

Through this advertising many buyers have come to realize that the largest trade-in allowance is not necessarily the best deal; and that the important question is not "What is the most I can get for my used car?" but "What is the most I can get for my money?"

We shall continue, from time to time, to republish these basic facts.

As General Motors dealers, you are fully conscious of the tremendous importance of reselling used cars on a basis that will increase public good-will.

The used car business is a vital service to millions of families who want dependable transportation at a low cost and it is your largest opportunity for making millions of new friends.

During 1928, General Motors will endeavor to direct the attention of used car buyers to the used cars offered by you—its thousands of dealers—knowing that in your stores they will find a frank presentation of the merchandise, dependable values, and a determination to have every sale contribute to future good-will.

Basic facts for the buyer of a new automobile:

1. Your used car has only one fundamental basis of value; i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.
2. Your used car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.
3. The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.
4. An excessive allowance may mean that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.
5. First judge the merits of the new car in comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any differences in allowance offered on your used car. Remember that primarily you are making a purchase, not a sale.

BRUCE ASSAILS SENATORS ON 'PROBE MANIA'

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—With an early and close vote in prospect, the Senate today resumed consideration of the Walsh power resolution, with Senator Bruce of Maryland taking the floor in the third day of the discussion.

Amendments written into the original resolution for an investigation of the financing of public utilities corporations first will be voted upon.

Senator Walsh, Democrat of Montana, wanted the Senate to reject the committee change limiting the inquiry into political contributions made by the utilities to those for presidential and congressional campaigns.

In taking the floor Senator Bruce said the Senate had developed a "mania for investigations."

"Soon there will be nothing left to investigate but the investigators themselves," he said, reminding the Senate that now there are 18 investigations pending.

Referring to Senator Walsh, Bruce said the Montana Senator seemed to get "the same kind of pleasure in investigation that some men take in intoxication."

"He is like a tiger that tastes human blood and then becomes a man-eater for the rest of his life," he declared.

Senator Bruce said the Senate should investigate itself, adding, however, that if a subject of investigation was wanted, the Senate should turn to the alien property custodian's office. Such an inquiry, he asserted, would catch Democrats as well as Republicans in its toils on the eve of a presidential election.

Fall River Woman, 109, Dies

Fall River, Feb. 15 (AP)—Mrs. Francisco Cabral, 109, the oldest resident of the city and a native of the Azores, died here today.

4 Women Against Death Penalty in 'Sack Murder'

Los Angeles, Cal. Feb 15 (INS)—Four women, one after the other, declared themselves opposed to the death penalty during the selection of a jury to try Charles A. McMillan for murder of Mrs. Augusta Appleby, widow of a Chicago millionaire.

Mrs. Appleby's body was found by two laborers sewed up in a rough canvas sack. A post mortem examination, conducted by Dr. Frank Webb, established the woman died of exposure.

CHALIAPIN'S NEW WIFE IN NEW YORK

New York, Feb. 15 (AP)—Feodor Chaliapin's second wife, whose marriage to the opera singer had been veiled in secrecy, was in New York today.

The present Mme. Chaliapin, who was Mme. Marie Petzhold, a Russian refugee in Paris, arrived on the Mauretania incognito and left the liner without being recognized. Her marriage to Chaliapin first became generally known when she applied to the American consul in Paris for a visa last month. The visa was held up by the consul pending an investigation.

Chaliapin left his first wife 21 years ago, but because of her religion she refused to grant him a divorce. Under the Soviet divorce laws, which do not require consent of the second party, he secured a divorce in Moscow last November and married his present wife in Paris in December.

His Moscow divorce was granted by a woman peasant judge and cost only a 15-cent stamp. Dispatches at the time said he had promised to pay $300 a month alimony to the first Mme. Chaliapin.

Dispatches from Paris said his present wife is the mother of several children by her first marriage, all of whom have been adopted by Chaliapin. She was described as about 46 years old, tall, somewhat heavy, with gray eyes, fair complexion and dark hair.

MACKAY SAYS RADIO WILL BENEFIT POSTAL SYSTEM

Although detained in New York at the bedside of his 7-year-old son, John, who was operated on for appendicitis, President Clarence H. Mackay sent a statement to stockholders of the Mackay Companies today at Boston, after the present officers were re-elected.

The younger Mackay is rallying at a New York hospital, but his father thought it best to remain by his side, despite the Boston meeting.

In his statement, President Mackay discussed the entry of his company into the radio field.

"In adding radio to its communications system, the Mackay Companies feels it will be able to develop the combined wire and wireless services in a way most beneficial to the public," he declared, "and also take advantage of whatever develops in radio. Radio is in no way a menace to the cables or wires."

DYING BURGLAR NAMES TWO AS ACCOMPLICES

Woonsocket, Feb. 15 (AP)—Walter Williams, 24, of this city, shot in the back by a Pascoag (R. I.) policeman when he tried to escape with $600 worth of loot from a store there Monday night, has confessed to another break in Medway, Mass., January 15.

Williams is dying and has implicated others in his crimes. The police say he named William Krukenski and Lawrence Yanski, both of this city, as his accomplices in the break at Harry Davis' haberdashery in Medway, where they obtained $432 worth of goods.

The men, also named as accomplices in the Pascoag break, were arraigned today and held in $5,000 each for hearing February 27.

$7500 FOR WARREN, $10,000 FOR WHIPPLE

Bentley W. Warren, Boston lawyer, was today appointed a special assistant attorney-general by Attz.-Gen. Arthur K. Reading to represent Massachusetts before the United States Supreme Court when the petition brought by the State of Connecticut to enjoin Massachusetts from taking the flood waters of the Connecticut river for augmenting its water supply, comes up. The Governor and council have approved $7500 as Warren's compensation.

Atty. Sherman L. Whipple, who will represent the State before a master appointed by the Federal Court in the Worcester electric light rate case, will receive $10,000.

TAUNTON AUTOIST HURT AS SKIDDING CAR UPSETS

Hugh J. McLaughlin of Washington st., Taunton, was somewhat upset today. His car was, likewise. When they dug the coupe and McLaughlin out of the ashes in a dump off Morton st., Dorchester, the police took him to the Forest Hills Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from contusions and abrasions to the scalp. McLaughlin's car skidded on a wet roadway.

LIFE TERMS FOR SLAYERS APPROVED BY AL SMITH

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 15 (INS)—Under a bill signed today by Governor Smith, second degree murderers may be sent to prison for life. The measure was sponsored by the Baumes crime commission. At present persons convicted of second degree murder cannot be imprisoned for more than 20 years.

HOME IS WRECKED BY HOT-WATER TANK BLAST

Worcester, Feb. 15 (AP)—The explosion of a hot water tank in the kitchen of the home of James A. Gorman, wrecked the building, causing damage of $5,000. The Gormans were away. The floor timbers of the second floor prevented the tank going through the roof. The first story was wrecked and one side blown out.

WOOD AND HARRIS G. O. P. CONVENTION CANDIDATES

Russell A. Wood of Cambridge and James G. Harris of Medford, the latter a former member of the Governor's Council, today announced candidacies in combination for delegates to the Republican national convention. They will run unpledged and stand ready to support a Fuller boom if the opportunity offers.

GERMANS TRY YANKEE 'SPY'

Dusseldorf, Germany, Feb. 15 (AP)—Guido Meisel, American chemist, of Portsmouth, N. H., was placed on trial here today on a charge of commercial espionage.

Before the reading of the indictment, the defense, supported by the prosecution, urged the exclusion of the public as it was expected that the testimony would be likely to "jeopardize the safety of the State" and would be detrimental to German industries. The court thereupon decided to conduct the trial in private.

An extensive legal apparatus was mobilized for the trial, including 13 experts and 31 witnesses. It was an innovation in Germany that two women were among the four lay judges, while the court assessor, Frau Dr. Pfuhl, is the only woman judge in western Germany.

BARNUM'S 40-HORSE DRIVER DIES PAUPER

Bridgeport, Feb. 15 (INS)—Death in the poorhouse has claimed Jim Thomas, who drove the "40-horse hitch" of the Barnum & Bailey Circus bandwagon. He would have been buried in potter's field today but for a telegram received from Sarasota, Fla., from Tom Lynch, boss hustler of the circus, guaranteeing funeral expenses.

Thomas used to drive a Broadway stage in New York. Later he went to Boston and drove a horsecar.

BOY DROWNS WHILE TAKING DINNER PAIL TO "DADDY"

Easthampton, Feb. 15 (AP)—An attempt to cross the ice of the Williston Mills pond cost nine-year-old Thomas Czajkowski his life today. The lad, who was carrying a dinner pail to his father, a mill worker, broke through and his body was swept under the ice. The body was recovered after Law De Bonis had broken through the ice in an effort to save the boy and had been rescued himself.

Mgr. Driscoll Dead

Plattsburg, N. Y., Feb. 15 (AP)—Rt. Rev. Monsignor John H. Driscoll, for nearly twenty years pastor of St. John's Roman Catholic Church here, died today after an illness of seven weeks.

ALL BRITAIN MOURNS FOR ASQUITH

Sutton Courtenay, England, Feb. 15—The Earl of Oxford and Asquith, one time Premier of Great Britain and until his retirement in 1926, leader of the Liberal party, is dead here at the age of 75.

Death came at 6:50 a. m., after the former premier had been unconscious for nearly 40 hours. A week ago pulmonary complications set in and the Earl took to his bed. Since 1926 advancing age had been making inroads on his health.

As Herbert H. Asquith the Earl was Premier of Great Britian from 1908 to 1916, leading his country during the first two years of the World War.

Giving up a brilliant career at the bar, he entered Parliament and, rising through successive ministries to the head of his government.

The wane of the Earl's political power came in 1924 with the disastrous defeat of the Liberals by the Conservatives in the general elections. This was followed by dissension among Liberal leaders and the Asquith-Lloyd George controversy which resulted in the virtual excommunication from the party of Lloyd George and a further weakening of its power.

The Asquith acceptance of his Earldom in 1925 presaged his withdrawal from active politics. This was followed in 1926 with his quarrel with Lloyd George. In October 1926, the Earl resigned as his party leader. His health was broken and his retirement had been expected.

Followers and admirers in July, 1911, presented the Earl with a cash present of $100,000 and an annuity of $12,500. The Earl had retired from public life a poor man.

STILL HOPE TO COMPLETE $30,000,000 POLI DEAL

Despite the expiration of his option on the $30,000,000 Poli theatre interests, Max Shoolman, Boston real estate man, may yet obtain control of this chain of New England show houses, dispatches from Worcester indicated today.

Both sides are still friendly and trying to bring about the transaction, said Charles M. Thayer, attorney for the Poli interests, who met today in a conference at Worcester with Joseph R. Ely, representing the syndicate of which Shoolman is the head. The meeting was arranged to discuss "suggestions" which Ely had to make, Thayer declared.

BELIEVE THOMAS HARDY LEFT SMALL ESTATE

London, Feb. 15 (INS)—Despite the tremendous sale of his books throughout the world, Thomas Hardy died a comparatively poor man, in the opinion of Dorset people who knew him intimately. When his will is made public, it is believed, it will show the late novelist was in moderate circumstances.

Hardy lived very simply and probably never spent more than an $5000 a year. The novelist was not a "business man" and many of his foreign copyrights were not properly guarded.

JURY DEADLOCKED OVER ACCUSED MOTHER SLAYER

Ottawa, Ill., Feb. 15 (INS)—The jury deliberating the fate of Harry Hill, Streator youth accused of matricide, today was in a deadlock. Receiving the case at 2 p. m. yesterday, the jury deliberated until 11 o'clock last night and was brought back into court today at 8:30.

Mother Prays as She Goes to Jail for Deserting Child

Portland, Me., Feb 15 (AP)—Dropping to her knees in the judges' chamber of the municipal court today, before a group of social workers and court attaches, Mrs. Belle Strout offered up a prayer, while the astonished group gazed at her.

She had been sentenced to 30 days in the House of Correction, charged with abandoning her nine-year-old daughter in Gray.

She remained on her knees for about two minutes, then calmly left the chambers with an officer. As the woman started to pray, she exclaimed:

"I don' care whether you laugh at me or not."

REVISED FARM RELIEF BILL GETS O.K.

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—The revised McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was ordered favorably reported by the Senate agricultural committee today after two hours' deliberation.

By its action the committee put the controversial farm problem again before the Senate by a unanimous vote of those members present. Some, however, reserved the right to oppose the bill on the floor and to offer amendments.

The modified bill still carries the equalization fee which was so strenuously opposed by President Coolidge in vetoing the measure passed last session, but it is believed to meet several objections then voiced by the President.

The fee now would be levied only in the event of emergencies and could be made to apply on all commodities, whereas only the basic commodities were included within provisions of the vetoed measure.

A revolving fund of $250,000,000 would be created from which loans at 4 per cent interest would be made available for co-operative marketing associations.

WAR ON CHURCH FEARED BY HEAD OF HOLY CROSS

Springfield, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Catholic Church is going to face the greatest assault it has ever been called on to meet in this country in the very near future in the form of an attack on all Catholics who wish to rise to high office, the Rev. John M. Fox, S. J. president of Holy Cross College, Worcester, declared here in an address before a large number of alumni.

"The attack coming on all Catholics who wish to rise to high office is going to be greater than ever before," he declared, "and upon how the Nation shall meet it will depend the continuance of the principles upon which our republic was founded."

The speaker urged all those present to study more closely the radical doctrines taught in non-sectarian institutions, declaring that these principles, if put into practice, will mean the ruin of the United States in very little time.

SEINE OVERFLOWING WHARVES OF PARIS

Paris, Feb. 15 (AP)—The Seine was washing over the wharves of Paris today and rising to a threatening height. Persistent mild warm weather and rain melting the snow serious damage is being done to all regions of France as the sodden earth is unable to absorb more water.

Thousands of acres of land in Brittany are under water and a large area of Savoie is submerged near Lake Bourget. In the south the Rhone, Lot and Garonne Rivers are mounting, hourly and the rivers of Central France are also rising.

FIN. COM. SAYS CITY PAYROLLS 'PADDED'

Doomed Wife's Plea for Mercy Is Denied

ASKS CUT IN BUDGET BY $888,211

Scoring the administration of Mayor Nichols for persisting in carrying a lot of "obviously unnecessary positions" on the payrolls, Chairman Charles L. Carr of the Boston Finance Commission today told the legislative committee on municipal finance that it is hopeless to look for any reform in this direction.

"The chairman was opposing the petition of the mayor for the setting of the city's tax limit this year at $12.75 a thousand, a decrease of 25 cents over the limit set for 1927.

If the recommendation of the commission had been carried out, Carr said, the city last year could have been run much more efficiently and at less expense.

He asked the committee to reduce the budget of $31,894,346 approved by the mayor, and upon which the $12.75 figure is based, by $888,211.

He presented a new plan whereby the appropriation bill would carry with it a mandate to the assessors to use available revenue of the city when computing the tax rate.

"If the Legislature adopts the commission's budget and passes the accompanying bill the tax limit of Boston should not go more than $11.10," he contended.

In commenting on the cut made by the Legislature in 1927, when the tax limit was set at $13, 50 cents lower than the mayor's figure, Carr charged that the mayor disregarded the decrease.

"He rearranged his budget by reducing the appropriation for street repairs and promptly made up the difference by a loan of $500,000 for this street expense," he revealed.

He charged that this same policy of "circumventing legislative mandates," practiced as well by Mayor Curley in 1925, should be brought to a halt.

"The city departmental balances of $441,748 at the end of the year show that, without making any reforms in the city's service and without borrowing for a current expense, the city could have lived within the limit set by the Legislature," he asserted.

BRICKLEY TRIED FOR LARCENY

Football player opposed football coach today in Superior Court in the trial of Charles E. Brickley, charged with conducting a bucket shop and with larceny of more than $40,000 from customers of the Charles E. Brickley Co.

The player was John J. Shea of North Cambridge, who was a member of the 1915 Boston College football team, coached by Charlie Brickley.

Shea testified he made a part payment for Westinghouse Electric stock, which Brickley later admitted he had sold to cover himself after selling General Motors "short."

Shea said in February, 1926, he bought 25 shares of Westinghouse Electric stock and paid Brickley $30. Later more of the Westinghouse stock was ordered by Shea, who gave Brickley an additional payment of $500. Shea said he relied on Brickley's statement that he had purchased the stock.

In 1927, Shea said, he told Brickley he wanted his stock, and the latter replied he had sold it. Asked what right he had to sell it, Brickley answered he had done it to cover himself because he had sold General Motors short. Shea in response to a question of Mr. Doyle said he had never received his stock or the money he had paid for it.

U. S. DEMANDS SHARE OF RAILROAD EXCESS PROFITS

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—Every railroad in the United States which operated at a profit in 1927 was notified by the Interstate Commerce Commission today to report such earnings and to pay over to the government, in accordance with the law, one-half of the profits in excess of 6 per cent of their valuations.

A similar order has been issued in previous years, but few railroads have paid any money under its provisions, preferring to wait for the termination of litigation over the method of valuation. The recapture of excess earnings by the government was adopted by Congress in 1920.

1 DEAD, 1 HURT, IN PLANE CRASH

Dayton, O., Feb. 15 (AP)—Capt. Thomas H. Miller, post surgeon at Wright Field, was killed, and Capt. Edward Laughlin, chief engineering officer at the airport, was injured seriously when the plane in which they were riding fell just outside of Fairfield, east of the post, this morning.

The fliers were in a training plane. Details of the accident were lacking, but it is believed the plane developed engine trouble. Capt. Miller was dead when he was taken from the wrecked plane, while Capt. Laughlin suffered severe injuries and was rushed to the post hospital.

ACTOR SUED FOR $250,000

New York, Feb. 15 (INS)—Helene G. Lambert, hostess of the Helen Morgan Night Club, has actually filed her $250,000 breach of promise suit against Robert E. Ames, the actor, it was revealed here today. Miss Lambert in February, in Chicago, threatened to sue Ames after he had suddenly married Muriel Oakes, prominent society girl.

Miss Lambert sets forth in her suit that she was induced to accompany Ames to Chicago, where she said she would marry him. But he married Miss Oakes in Waukegan instead. The present Mrs. Ames is the actor's fourth wife.

DEMAND STATE BUY 500 ACRES FOR RESERVATION

Purchase by the State of land in Ashby and West Townsend for reservation purposes was advocated by the Fitchburg Chamber of Commerce, labor leaders, representatives of outdoor associations and others at a hearing today before the legislative committee on harbors and public lands. The reservation of about 500 acres, it was thought, could be bought for $12 to $15 an acre. It was suggested that it be called the Willard Brook State Reservation.

BOY DIDN'T LIKE HIS SCHOOL AND BURNED IT

Lakeville, Feb. 15 (AP)—Admission that he set fire to the South Lakeville school last night and that he had also started the fire which destroyed a schoolhouse on the same site three years ago was made to the authorities today by 14-year-old Arthur Parry.

The boy said he did it because he did not like school. He admitted also he had stolen some money from a teacher's desk last night. About half of the building was burned.

Favorable action on Mayor Nichols' bill for a $2,000,000 hospital program was asked today at a legislative committee hearing by Elijah Adlow, special counsel for Boston.

FIGHTING FOR HER LIFE

Picture made when she was 16 years old shows Doris Palmer McDonald with her foster-mother, Dr. Frances Palmer of Oklahoma City, and foster-sister, Elsie Palmer, with two girl friends in rear.

Atty. James C. (Ropes) O'Brien, noted Chicago criminal lawyer, Margaret Gould, Mrs. H. W. Hartaugh and Mrs. Hazel Snyder, in conference to save Mrs. Snyder's daughter, Doris Palmer McDonald, from hanging in Canada with her husband for slaying taxi driver. Margaret Gould was Doris' childhood governess; Mrs. Hartaugh is an official of Chicago Women's Protective Association. Mrs. Snyder also is a Chicago resident.

KIN SPEEDING FIGHT TO SAVE GIRL FROM ROPE

Chicago, Feb. 15—An unofficial report that the Canadian Department of Justice had rejected a plea for mercy made in behalf of Doris McDonald, spurred the girl's relatives and attorney in Chicago to renewed effort in her behalf.

She is scheduled to be hanged March 23 for the murder of a taxi driver.

"This report, as I understand it," declared James C. O'Brien, the attorney, "is not official. If it is followed by an official rejection, I shall seek a personal interview for Doris' mother, grandmother, and former governess, with the Canadian Minister of Justice."

These three, he added, will provide the official with sufficient evidence that Doris is mentally irresponsible, and was so at the time she took part with her husband, George, in the killing of Emil Bouchard, the taxicab driver at Valleyfield, Que., near Montreal.

While Doris' mother, Mrs. Michael Greco of Chicago, is remaining in Chicago for the present, to help the attorney and the Women's Protective Association which has espoused the girl's cause, the foster-mother, Mrs. Julia Palmer of Oklahoma City, Okla., is en route to Montreal to help the girl.

A set of affidavits was dispatched by air mail earlier in the day, to Montreal, containing statements of the girl's foster, grandmother, Mrs. Catherine Walker, and governess, Miss Margaret Gould. These affidavits purport to show that Doris long suffered from delusions of grandeur and lived in a world of fantasy.

They set forth that Mrs. Greco was only 14 when she eloped and married Lee Snyder, traveling salesman, and father of Doris; that while Doris was still very young it became necessary to place her in an orphanage; that when she was but 17 she eloped and married, and that as a result of her experiences, Doris was for a time mentally unbalanced.

Doomed Girl Spends Days Reading Lives of Saints

Montreal, Que., Feb. 15—Doris Palmer McDonald has just 37 breakfasts left. Probably 36, for when they hustle her to the gallows out in the snow at Valleyfield March 23, just as dawn is paling the hideous shadows of her last night on earth, Doris won't have much appetite.

These last days of hers, if last days they be despite the fight waged by residents of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., her home town, for clemency, are easier than those of Ruth Snyder.

She is in L'Azile Sainte Darie, the woman's jail here, in personal charge of the assistant mother superior and one other nun. Up here in the Province of Quebec the freezing weather does not penetrate to the hearts of jail authorities. Their attitude towards condemned felons is characteristically expressed by a spread of the hands, a lift of the eyebrows, and "it is the last. Let us do what we may."

So both Doris McDonald and her husband, George, whose lives came to disaster after she linked her fate with his as crook and adventuress, have many small material mercies shown them. McDonald, in his death cell in Bordeaux jail, at Doris is kindly treated by guards, and may eat what he chooses, provided it is not harmful.

The assistant mother superior watches Doris' meals as though she were a child, which those who knew her from childhood insist that she still is, mentally.

"We ask her every day what she would like to eat. But, alas, she eats little, the good sister said.

"Usually in the morning it is an orange and toast. We always make cocoa for her. She needs nourishing food. And sometimes," she paused impressively, "she desires beefsteak."

With wonder in her voice, she alluded to this amazing habit of folks from "the States"—such a meat, particularly beefsteak, in the morning.

"I'm always glad when she asks for it, though," she added. "At noon she has her main meal If there is soup, she sips it, but doesn't take much. She likes desserts, particularly cake. Then there is a light supper.

"Doris likes candy too. She has had a number of boxes lying around in her room."

Doris' cell is as airy and comfortable the nuns call it a room, not a cell.

"When she was baptised into the church a number of the sisters made her presents. They knew she liked candy."

BROWN WILL REINSTATE RANDALL, FOOTBALL STAR

Providence, Feb. 15 (AP)—Roy E. Randall, Brown football star last season, acquitted yesterday of driving an auto while under the influence of liquor, will be reinstated at the university, from which he was suspended following his arrest, according to Dean Otis E. Randall of Brown.

Walker Turns Down $150,000 a Year Theatrical Job

New York, Feb. 15—Mayor Walker has refused a $150,000 a year job as president of a theatrical chain, the Stanley Company of America, it was admitted today by close friends of his.

Strong pressure was brought upon him to accept the post at the instigation of Irving Rossheim, then treasurer of the organization. After the mayor had declined "with reluctance," Rossheim himself was chosen.

Great Story on Life; Gripping as a Novel; Fascinating as a Movie

CHAPTER 3

WE no longer tell friends from enemies by smell; but we often pick them by the shape of their nose. Man's nose is not so striking as the elephant's, or even the long-nosed monkey's, but it features his face and is one of his most human and superfluous elements. As it is a new acquisition—it began with mammals—it appears late in fetal life and develops fully only after birth. Its shape and size are hereditary and are distinguishing traits of race But it has no more to do with brain power than the handkerchief that wipes it.

As the olfactory nerves alone are connected with the hemispheres of the human brain, it is inferred that the brain itself arose in connection with the sense of smell: the original brain was a smelling organ.

In mammals generally, the smell sense is the most highly developed of all senses. In monkeys, it has already begun to diminish. Some mammals have five pairs of ridges supporting the olfactory organs, some hoofed animals have eight, apes usually have three. Man has from two to five pairs.

The nose in the human embryo is at first a pair of pits or pockets in the skin—the condition in fishes. The external nose appears much later.

Man's reptilian ancestors had a supplementary smell organ between roof of mouth and floor of nose. With this they could sample odors while eating without having to sniff We—in common with other mammals—have its vestige in our Jacobson's organ.

THE ear also begins as a pocket. In the first gill-cleft. This sinks into the head until its outer opening is closed by the tympanum or eardrum A rare anomaly is an individual with two, or even three, external ear openings; these represent the second, and third gill-clefts. In some fishes the opening remains: their ear is primarily a balancing organ. Our equilibrium sense organ is also located in the inner ear; if our semi-lunar canals are destroyed, we cannot balance ourselves.

We turn our head toward sounds or cup our hands behind our ears; our ancestors turned their ears. We have vestiges of ear muscles, as do apes. Our external ears are also degenerate, as are those of the orang and gorilla Some ears are small and lie tight against the head, as in the orang: some are large and stand out as do those of the chimpanzee.

At the eighth month the rim of helix of the fetal ear begins to fold in—an additional sign of disuse. But the tip persists and generally may be felt, often may be seen, near the middle of the infolded helix. It is called Darwin's point, Darwin pointed out its vestigial character.

The lobe, or soft lower part, of the ear generally appears at the sixth month of fetal life, is found in no animals below apes and in man has no known use other than support for ornament. It is said to be

Find Out How White Your Teeth Are

Simply remove dull, "off-color" film this way

FREE 10-Day Test Will Prove It

IN hundreds of thousands of cases it is discovered that teeth thought naturally "off color" are actually dazzling white. A film coat makes them lustreless and dull. When you remove it the new way teeth take on a brilliance that amazes. Gums grow firm and coral pink.

Here is a simple test that shows what the new way can do.

Stars of the stage and screen have made this test by scores.

This new way in teeth and gum care removes the dingy film that clouds your teeth. A film that absorbs discoloration.

Just run your tongue across your teeth. And you will feel that film. It is the great enemy of pretty teeth and healthy gums.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It formed a breeding place for germs. And germs, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Ordinary brushing fails in successfully removing film. Under film are the clear, whiter teeth you envy.

Now modern science has perfected an effective film combatant called Pepsodent. It acts to curdle film, then removes it. It firms and protects gums; beautifies teeth quickly and correctly.

EX-KLAN CHIEF BARES M'CRAY BRIBE PLOT

Indianapolis, Feb. 15 (AP)—D. C. Stephenson, former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan, became a willing witness today in the trial of Governor Ed Jackson, charged with conspiracy to commit a felony in an attempt to bribe Governor McCray.

Stephenson, now a life-term prisoner on a murder conviction, connected Jackson, George V. Coffin, Marion County Republican chairman, and Robert I. Marsh, a local attorney, with an alleged conspiracy to bring about through bribery the appointment of James E. McDonald as Marion County prosecutor in 1923.

Ensley W. Johnson, special assistant prosecutor, interrogated Stephenson. He asked the witness to tell something of Coffin's part in the alleged conspiracy. Stephenson said Coffin told him on one occasion that if someone "hostile" got the appointment it would break up the group with which he was connected.

The witness said he had been designated to go to James W. Noel, one of Governor McCray's attorneys, and make him a proposition, to donate $10,000 toward McCray's defense fund if McCray would make a favorable appointment. Coffin, according to Stephenson, declared it to "be dangerous business trying to buy a Governor."

The former grand dragon said that when he saw Noel he was informed that McCray had already made up his mind to the appointment and that he resented the attempt to influence him and thought an effort was being made to "prey on his misfortune."

RULES STOLEN MONEY CAN BE USED TO BURY THIEF

Columbus, O., Feb. 15 (AP)—Stolen money found on the body of a thief may be used to pay his funeral and other expenses, the Ohio Supreme Court held today in refusing to review a case involving use of such money found on a slain bank robber. The case grew out of the robbing of a bank here May 22, 1923. One of the robbers, V. C. Stewart, was killed later in the day by police officers. On his person was found $2004 of the loot obtained. Administrators of his estate used $745 of the money for funeral expenses and costs of administering the estate. The bonding company which reimbursed the bank sought to collect this money.

HULTMAN DEDICATES NEW FIRE STATION

Engine 17 and Ladder 7 were all dressed up today and waiting for a place to go—preferably a fire. Their new firehouse on Meeting House Hill was dedicated today by Fire Commissioner Eugene Hultman and Fire Chief Daniel Sennott. The new firehouse replaces one that has stood for several decades on the peak of Meeting House Hill, Dorchester. This was a two-story brick structure, but the new building is three stories high and is of brick, with limestone trimmings. District Chiefs Charles R. Long and Frank Jordan will be quartered at this house hereafter, instead of in the building of Engine 18 in Harvard st.

member of the Legislature who owns Elevated stock or whose family owns it, or who is obligated to the company in any way, from voting on the pending Elevated bills.

HARRIMAN SUGGESTION

The Harriman suggestion was buried in a discussion of the bills on extension of public control, and was made in the following words:

"We can see no way in which the benefits of efficient, energetic, private management can be had for the Elevated unless the Commonwealth shall purchase the road under its option and lease it for operation by private management under equitable and usual conditions.

"If the Commonwealth should purchase the road less its quick assets, for a little over $100,000,000, and lease it on a 4½ per cent basis, the saving in the present cost of service would be larger than under any other plan thus far presented, and would be sufficient to carry the entire rental of the rapid transit lines recommended in the report of the division.

"Leases of this kind should include an agreement to apply the savings over the present cost of service to the payment of rentals of new subways."

He added that the only reason the division does not recommend that this action be taken now is because they know of no competent private company with adequate capital and the necessary experience to lease the road to. He said, however, that if such an offer to lease is made by competent parties it should be given careful consideration.

TO PAY RENTALS

Amendments proposed by Harriman included one whereby the $875,000 saved by the retirement of preferred stock would first be used to pay the rentals of subways, and that only after such reserve has been exhausted shall taxation in the form of betterments be used.

While regretting the refusal of the directors of the road, represented by Frederic C. Snow, to accept the extension bill, Harriman declared that the objections are not in against these fundamental features:

The extension for 15 years.

Retirement of preferred stock and the setting up of a new rapid transit reserve of $875,000 out of savings from the retirement.

The definite consent of the road to the construction of the first and second routes.

He questions whether it is necessary for the public purposes by the State of returns to stockholders and suggests that an item be included to cover deficit hereafter in the cost of service, now levied on the cities and towns, $2,000,000 of which remain unpaid.

Some of the disadvantages that will arise if the road is returned to the stockholders, he says, are:

Loss of valuable option to purchase.

The inability of the cities and towns to ever collect the $2,200,000 that the road owes them.

Delay of important extensions for years.

A hostile public.

BROKERS CALLED IN OIL "SLUSH FUND" INQUIRY

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—Subpoenas for one representative each of two New York brokerage firms were issued today by the Senate Teapot Dome committee, which is to resume tomorrow its quest for the remainder of the Liberty bonds which formed the profits of the mysterious Continental Trading Company of Canada.

Those summoned for tomorrow are, Joseph F. McMahon of Potter & Co. and James Bernieri of C. F. Childs & Co. They will testify as to the sale of $75,000 in Liberty bonds which Will H. Hays turned over to the Empire Trust Company of New York in November, 1923, in part payment of a note of the Republican National Committee.

INDIGESTION SPOILS YOUR LIFE

How to End Stomach Troubles

Although indigestion may not be chronic with many people, it is surprising how even slight pains or feelings of fullness after eating steal much of life's sparkle and happiness. Perhaps you scarcely notice it in the early stages, but remember indigestion never cures itself and usually gets worse. Be on your guard then.

The safest, surest and easiest way to end indigestion, heartburn or flatulence is to take a little "Pape's Diapepsin" after meals or whenever pain is felt. This quickly stops your discomfort by neutralizing excess stomach acid and preventing fermentation, and at the same time soothes, heals and strengthens your delicate stomach lining.

Get a 50-cent package of "Pape's Diapepsin" today—every druggist sells and recommends it, as a sure remedy for stomach troubles. Don't let indigestion spoil your life—you can't have stomach troubles and "Pape's Diapepsin," too!

WIFE RELATES CRUELTY OF CAMPBELL

trouble was when I was about to enter a hospital in Washington, D. C. At that time, when he was a major in the aviation section of the Signal Corps, a girl came to me and asked me to persuade the Major to take her to the coast with him.

"I indignantly refused, but she was unrepentant and when the baby was born she came to me in the hospital with Major Campbell. He wanted me to name the baby after her. Of course I refused.

"After that the girl constantly interfered. And I found out about other girls calling him up and going out with him.

REFUSED TO TALK TO HER.

"When I called him at a hotel in San Francisco he refused to talk to me. He was registered there with another woman. I called him at other hotels in San Francisco where he was registered with other women. One hotel in Portland, Ore., sent me a bill for $71."

Verily hell hath no fury like that of a woman scorned. Mrs. Cornelia Campbell was scorned, driven away from the Superintendent's cottage where her husband lived with Mary McLean as his wife and told never to return to the grounds of the state reformatory where he was head from the spring until the fall of 1925.

"We met at the home of a girl friend of mine when 'C. C.' was a sergeant at Fort Williams in 1915. From the first he was impetuous, seemingly greatly in love with me at first sight," Mrs. Campbell said, making an effort to keep from collapsing. "This is a terrible shock. I had thought I was all through with that man forever.

"It is all I can do to keep up, and I fear the strain will bring on a relapse of my little girl's nervous trouble. She knows everything, and will not allow anyone to call him her father, for he never tried to be a father to her since she was born," she explained.

Has No Gas Now!

Once a woman of her age had to be careful. Today, she eats anything she wants! A Stuart tablet—and after-eating distress vanishes.

Chew a Stuart tablet after the heartiest meal, and you, too, can smile at indigestion. Stops gas and belching. Ends sour risings. No soda, or other burning ingredient in this perfect alkaline; just magnesia, calcium carbonate, and other soothing things. A sweet stomach for twenty-five cents!

Wherever you find a drugstore, you'll find Stuart's. The handy metal box to carry in purse or pocket, is a quarter. The large size for 60 cents, and the family size, $1.20. A sweet stomach for twenty-five cents.

PEACE UNIONS FIGHT U. S. NAVY INCREASE

Washington, Feb. 15 (AP)—Opposition to the Coolidge administration's $740,000,000 warship construction program was voiced today before the House Naval Committee by Representatives of the World Alliance for International Friendship and of the Church Peace Union.

Heading the delegation, William I. Hull, professor of history and international relations at Swarthmore College, declared the program proposing construction of 25 cruisers, five aircraft carriers, nine destroyer leaders and 32 submarines, constituted an "extravagance and a "menace."

Hull's appearance marked the first time since the program was submitted by Secretary Wilbur that opposition had been voiced before the committee.

FEARS "NAVALITIS" U. S.

Hull said it was a menace "because it will tend to militarize or navalize our own people."

Rep. Britten, Republican, Illinois, said Hull's views were "distinctly ideal and would be wonderful if effected."

"They are American ideals," replied Hull.

Britten asked if he did not have a high opinion of President Coolidge and Hull said he did as far as economy was concerned, but that how the President could endorse such a naval program passed his comprehension.

"Don't you think we had better follow the President?" asked Britten.

"No, I don't," Hull answered.

RETORTS TO BRITTEN.

Britten then referred to the value of an insurance policy and Hull said such a policy did not prevent death. To another remark by Britten that naval expenditures were less than the money spent for chewing gum, the witness declared that chewing gum did not cause war and that those who spent money for chewing gum at least spent their own money.

Under questioning by Representative A. Piatt Andrew, Republican, Massachusetts, the witness declared he was opposed to all navies, that his organization was international and that it was endeavoring to substitute judicial settlement for war.

URGE M'ADOO TO RE-ENTER PRESIDENTIAL CONTEST

New York, Feb. 15 (AP) The New York Times said today: "Supporters of William G. McAdoo are urging him to re-enter the contest for the Democratic nomination for President, from which he withdrew several months ago, to block the nomination of Governor Smith. According to information received by both those supporting and opposing the candidacy of Governor Smith, there is an excellent chance of Mr. McAdoo acceding to the request."

YALE PRESIDENT SEEKS CONTACT WITH STUDENTS

New Haven, Ct., Feb. 15 (AP)—In a communication to the Yale Daily News, President James Rowland Angell of Yale takes up the question of "increasing the intimacy of contact between undergraduates and the president," explaining that he has already tried several unsuccessful experiments and is still "giving consideration to other possible methods."

Among the unsuccessful plans President Angell tried out, he says, was a senior reception which was abandoned because the only seniors who came were the eight or ten delegated as ushers.

Face the truth about body odor

Don't risk embarrassment—this toilet soap purifies

HOW SHOCKED we would be if anyone ever told us that we were guilty of body odor!

Of course, no one would be so indelicate. But the truth remains that anyone of us may offend.

To live, we must perspire. Even on cold days our pores give off invisible perspiration—often as much as a quart of waste each 24 hours.

This body moisture, whether it can be seen or not, is always odorous. And it never plays favorites. Housewife or banker—laborer or society debutante—all may offend unless they take precautions.

But while others notice body odor instantly—the offender doesn't.

Don't take chances. To avoid embarrassment, just wash and bathe often with the world's most delightful toilet soap—Lifebuoy—it deodorizes.

The same gentle, antiseptic lather that helps protect health by removing germs—prevents body odor by purifying pores. And Lifebuoy keeps complexions so fresh and clear! You'll enjoy it for every purpose.

Note its hygienic scent

You will learn to love Lifebuoy's pleasant clean scent, which tells you Lifebuoy purifies, yet which quickly evaporates after rinsing. Use Lifebuoy a week and you'll use it for life. Get some today.

"Never Neglect Sore Throat"

Don't ever underestimate the danger of a sore throat; if neglected, it may develop into something serious—as many know to their sorrow.

The same goes for a cold; pneumonia at this time of the year is your great enemy.

At the first sign of cold or throat irritation, use Listerine full strength as a gargle. Keep it up systematically.

Being antiseptic, it immediately attacks the countless disease-producing bacteria in mouth and throat, and halts many an ailment before it becomes dangerous.

During winter weather, when you are usually subjected to poor air and sharp changes in temperature, it's a good idea to use Listerine every day as mouth wash and gargle.

This pleasant and easy precaution may spare you a trying and painful siege of illness. Lambert Pharmacal Company, St. Louis, Mo., U. S. A.

With Charley Viano, Boston University's hard checking defense an out of tonight's contest, Boston College feels sure that it can skate into its first win in two seasons over the Power puchasters.

Viano's defensive work in the tussle of the two teams last night, which ended in a 2-2 deadlock, was the envy of the Terrier defense. Manager B. U. Hall has high hopes of the team and considers the game with Boston College a good test of its strength.

Chris Grew has a good man in Hall. Soon to take in Vasa Berry. Coming up with Tedesco on the left wing and Powers a mid defense to pass him too, Capt. Johnny Lawless is back in good shape and B. U.'s strength will not be greatly diminished.

"Jerry" by ELENORE MEHERIN AUTHOR of "CHICKIE"

A Story of Mad Moonlight Kisses and a Wonderful Young Girl

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR

Jerry King, good-looking, charming and 19, meets Saxon Rhodes, a young Boston architect, and falls in love with him at first sight. Marza, her fascinating mother, warns her that idealists like Saxon make unsatisfactory husbands. Although Jerry sees Saxon kiss Tess Will, who has a great deal of money, she still clings to her ideal and refuses a marriage proposal from Heine Ross, a young suitor. The friendship between Saxon and Jerry grows and she confesses that she is madly in love with him. Late one afternoon she comes into his office and finds her uncle, to whom he owes everything, discovers him embracing her. The uncle insists that he go abroad to complete his studies and Jerry bravely tells him that she will wait for him forever. He goes to Paris. At first he writes frequently, then his letters cease. Tess tells Jerry she is going to Paris and will see Saxon. Jerry gets out five postals she has received after weeks of silence and becomes frightened as she realizes they are in a strange handwriting. At last Saxon writes that he has been ill and the postals have been sent by his nurse. He tells her Tess has arrived and bought a car and speaks of going on a sketching trip with her and two others.

She realizes Heinie is in love with her and he begs her to let him tell her something.

"FRED TOYE VOICING THE GREAT DEMOCRACY OF THE AIR" EDITOR

RADIO DIALOG

WITH its broadcast tonight through WNAC and the Columbia chain, the Kolster Company abandons its policy of featuring a single composer, and will henceforth pluck its nosegay hither and yon, wherever the whim of the moment leads.

The Kolster string to be opened tonight will be a gamut of things—the music of the past and present, of the old and new. Some of the selections will be familiar, others will be heard for the first time. Some will be of popular enumeration and others will be known only to the connoisseur. Some will be of the happy daily adventure type, others will be of the sad-heart-and-sorrowful order. Some will be known almost to everyone, others will be known only to a few. Some will be of the classic order, others will be of the ragtime order. Some will be of the symphonic order, others will be of the jazz order. Some will be of the operatic order, others will be of the musical comedy order. Some will be of the concert order, others will be of the vaudeville order. Some will be of the grand order, others will be of the popular order. Some will be of the highbrow order, others will be of the lowbrow order. Some will be of the old-fashioned order, others will be of the modern order. Some will be of the serious order, others will be of the humorous order. Some will be of the sacred order, others will be of the secular order. Some will be of the instrumental order, others will be of the vocal order. Some will be of the solo order, others will be of the ensemble order. Some will be of the orchestral order, others will be of the band order. Some will be of the string order, others will be of the brass order. Some will be of the woodwind order, others will be of the percussion order. Some will be of the keyboard order, others will be of the non-keyboard order. Some will be of the electrical order, others will be of the acoustical order. Some will be of the radio order, others will be of the phonograph order. Some will be of the record order, others will be of the transcription order. Some will be of the studio order, others will be of the remote control order. Some will be of the network order, others will be of the local order. Some will be of the chain order, others will be of the independent order. Some will be of the WNAC order, others will be of the Columbia order. Some will be of the Kolster order, others will be of the Kolster Karolers order, others will be of the Kolster Kontralto, Herbert, Dvorak, Sullivan, Bolto, Klein and Cervantes order, and others will be of the composers who contribute to this amazing program—but enjoyable.

LAST night's rather dull radio evening was saved by WLOE with a program of unusual character sung by the Polish Singers, who will compete in the Washington's Birthday International Choral contest at Symphony Hall. They sang folk songs and solos with spirit and gram—but enjoyable.

Most of the local stations offered little out of the ordinary. With few attractions at other stations to tempt the listener away, WLOE was able to hold the local audience through a long evening, starting with Collier's amusing Valentine cartoon. The creator of Otto Grow can draw pretty girls, and by means of radio and the daily paper, can make his listeners draw just as attractive ones.

THE WLOE program lasted until quarter before one this morning, with Birge Peterson still going strong with his all-request program played at the State Theatre.

Members of the staff of this station tell an interesting yarn concerning the Beacon Four, those irrepressibles who will be on for an hour tonight commencing at 11:30. The tenor tells bedtime stories on the stroke of midnight, something like this:

Mrs. Alice C. McCauley, pianist, who will be featured in the Martha Lee Women's Club hour on WLOE tomorrow morning.

"GOOD evening, boys and girls. I am going to tell you about little Goldilocks tonight. Goldilocks and her little brother went out in the woods this night that I'm telling you about. They pulled up the bedclothes to their chins and went to sleep, when suddenly the window opened and a great big dirty burglar came into the house.

"The burglar had a knife as long as a baseball bat and he went over to the little boy's and the little girl's beds and he cut their throats from ear to ear and he left them in a pool of blood. Good night, boys and girls."

A DAY or two ago, the quartette received a letter from a Boston suburb, written in a childish scrawl.

"Dear Dickson Four," it said, "we hope you will be on the air again next week and will tell another bedtime story, as we like your stories so much. I am sure that other little girls enjoy them, too. My Daddy wakes me up every Wednesday night, so I can hear your bedtime story, and I will be listening for you next Wednesday."

Now, the Beacon Four is puzzled.

The Selberling Singers on WEEI gave a rousing performance of supposedly popular songs, thrown together with no apparent purpose, but enjoyable, none the less, as many a more carefully studied effort has failed to be.

BY coincidence, the Stromberg Carlson Orchestra on the Blue network at the same hour and heard locally through WBZ also went in for light-music miscellany. Orchestral pieces plucked here and there supplied a soothing background for quiet bridge games or parlor chitchat.

Baseball fans and followers of Babe Gautreau will hear the popular Second baseman over the air tonight when he relates his interesting experiences at the Sportsman Banquet over Station WLEX at 9 o'clock.

GAME OF VALENTINE

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—It is 6 o'clock in the morning. Time for a cop. A town is awakened up by the milk wagons. Time for a cop. Offices and buildings and stores all open up to drudgery. They are the stenographers and cops of this town. Everything lasting all the day.

The Youth sang to it, running it with a gusto and movement that they often obtain when they are singing of popular enumeration. Sometimes it is a happy daily adventure. THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON:
1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land, in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND:
1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.
3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Attwill on "Hogs"

Plain Talk at Electric Light Companies

Chairman Henry C. Attwill's plain talk to the "hogs" among the electric lighting companies of Massachusetts will have the good effect of focusing public attention upon one of the major issues which are to be fought out before the present Legislature.

The Worcester Electric Light Company, which last year paid its shareholders 24 percent on the par value of their stock, was ordered by the Public Utilities Board to reduce its rate from 7 cents to 5 cents per kilowatt hour, effective on July 15th, last.

This reduction the Worcester Company refused and refuses to make. It continues to charge 40 percent more, or 7 cents per kilowatt hour. Having obtained a District Court injunction, restraining the commission from enforcing its order, an appeal now is on its way to the highest court in the land.

Confronted by this bold attempt to override the regulatory powers of the Commonwealth, the Public Utilities Board, with the support of Governor Fuller, is asking for legislation under which gas and electric companies are to enter into contract with the State and agree to become subject to regulation and supervision.

Gas and electric companies cannot be "compelled" to enter into such a contract, but what if they refuse?

They will find themselves blocked at every turn. Further issues of their shares will not be approved. They will lose the power to take private property by right of eminent domain. They no longer will be protected from plants owned and operated by the public.

In the past two or three years, a great many electric companies, formerly owned locally, have passed to the control of absentees.

With the stock of other similar organizations, the shares of these companies have found their way into the treasuries of holding companies.

Bonds, preferred stock and various other kinds of shares have been issued by the holding companies and sold to the public, those who dominate the holding companies retaining the common or voting shares.

In many instances, control has in this way passed to holding companies outside the State. It is these companies in particular which are fighting (1) the regulatory power of Massachusetts and (2) the effort of the Governor and his Public Utility Commissioners to bring the "hogs" into line.

No one except a man of the Attwill type could have talked as plainly of the porcine gentlemen who are running the holding company game as he did and escaped without the instant cry of "demagogue."

Attwill is a distinguished attorney, respected for his "law" as well as his courage. He is a former Attorney-General of the Commonwealth, a member of one of the oldest families in Essex County.

He knows the public utilities industry inside and out. Hear what he says, not of ALL electric lighting companies but of the "hogs" among them!

"We have given to the public some of the best service and the lowest rates in the United States. We have given to their employees some of the highest wages in the country. We have given to our stockholders a fair return upon the investment of their money—but it seems to me that the limit of the private ability is gone in this state, or else I mistake very much the temper and character of the people.

"We have got to a point where, if what these companies say is true, reducing rates in Massachusetts means that our rates are confiscatory, and if they are not confiscatory, our rates are incompetent, or ineffective."

"Certainly the private companies have nothing to boast about on their rates when we CONTRAST THE RATE OF ONE PUBLICLY OWNED COMPANY AT HOLYOKE WITH THAT OF ANY PRIVATE COMPANY IN THE STATE.

"If there are no privately operated companies that can approximate the rates that the Holyoke Municipal Company is now giving—I refer to skilled men, and including a fair return upon its investment of the taxpayers' money—it would seem that the field of the private utility is gone in this state, or else I mistake very much the temper and character of the people.

"We have got to a point where, if what these companies say is true, reducing rates in Massachusetts means that our rates are confiscatory, and if they are not confiscatory, our rates are incompetent, or ineffective."

And what was said on behalf of the "hogs"?

Able attorneys called the Public Utilities bill "an attempt to forestall an adverse decision by the Supreme Court of the United States." Companies were going to be "forced at the point of a pistol" to give up their "constitutional rights." It was "an attempt to nullify the Constitution of the United States by indirection," an "attempt to evade and destroy."

To which the Commonwealth, through the Chairman of its Public Utilities Board, made reply as follows:

"The Constitutional law about these companies has to be—about is in the last analysis determined by public sentiment. A CONSTITUTIONAL LAW THAT WILL SPEAK 100 YEARS HENCE THAN THE EFFICIENCY OF THE MUNICIPAL COMPANIES AND GIVE THE PUBLIC SOMEWHERE NEAR AS LOW RATES AS THE MUNICIPAL COMPANIES OF MASSACHUSETTS HAVE, DEMONSTRATES THAT THEY CAN FURNISH.

"THE CONSTITUTIONAL LAW THAT WILL SPEAK 100 YEARS HENCE WILL BE WRITTEN BY THE BATTLE FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE SLAVES WAS WON BY THE DRED SCOTT DECISION.

"But if they didn't think that we can compete in this the Fourteenth Amendment, passed to abolish slavery, has been turned into mandatory guarantee against it.

"YOU SHOULD PASS THIS BILL, OR THE PEOPLE OF MASSACHUSETTS MUST BE SCALED THAT THEY HAVE NO PROTECTION FROM CORPORATE GREED. THEIR PROTECTION MUST DEPEND ON THE KINDNESS THE GENEROSITY, THE PHILANTHROPY OF THE SERVANTS."

From time to time the BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN has been pointing to the example of the Holyoke Electric Company—owned by the people—and asking why no private system has matched its 5-cent rate.

We are glad to have the Public Utilities Board join in this.

REPORT ON A NEW NARCOTIC CURE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE papers the other day announced an apparently certain cure for drug addicts.

There are probably 200,000 drug addicts in the United States. New hope comes to them through the discovery of a Hungarian immigrant named A. S. Horovitz. This is not a quack cure nor a money-making investment, but the news of it is contained in the calm professional report of the New York Medical Journal and Record.

It has the backing of Dr. Alexander Lambert, once president of the American Medical Association, and Dr. Frederick Tilney, president of the American Neurological Association, who are men of great authority and reputation.

They say they have observed 400 cases which have been treated with this remedy and the results are satisfactory.

The remedy is "a solution of lipoids combined with nonspecific proteins and water soluble vitamins," whatever that may mean.

It is said that after administrations varying from seventy-two hours to three weeks the patients have gone about their business apparently cured.

After a day they achieve peaceful sleep, after two or three days they eat heartily and after four days the craving for "snow" or liquor or chloral has left.

The medicine is derived from several members of the vegetable family, such as soy beans and cotton seeds. The proteins come from alfalfa or millet and the vitamins from other plant seeds. It is called narcosan and does not contain any morphine, heroin or other habit-forming drugs.

So the effects of narcosan are totally different from the distressing and even horrible influences of other methods. It causes none of those night horrors and insomnias which torment the addict under other treatments.

The patients begin to sleep peacefully the second or third nights. In a short time their appetites become excessive and they especially crave sugar. This is remarkable, as almost all drug addicts report a loss of appetite.

Besides this they digest everything they eat which helps much in the progress toward health.

Under other treatments or cures the patient often becomes hysterical, sometimes maniacal, and attacks his nurses and keepers. Many of the poorer victims commit robbery, assault or murder in order to get the drug. All this is avoided when narcosan is employed.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

MILKA SABLICH has taken the wrong road. Stormy eyes, and wild, tossed hair, a body as taut as a drawn bow string and a cry of clashing steel in her strong young throat.

"Flaming Milka" they call her, this 19-year-old girl who has flung herself, like a modern Joan of Arc, from desperate pits in Colorado again the soft, fat cities of the east.

"FOOD!" cries Milka. "FOOD FOR STARVING MINERS! FOOD FOR HELPLESS BABIES AND WOMEN! FOOD—AND GIVE ME FOOD!"

Up and down the land she goes with a great cry, her fierce young purpose burning like a torch above the sodden streets and the huddling crowds.

Burning Joan—giving her life to God and France.

Burning Milka—giving her youth for Justice and Labor.

Starving miners in Colorado—I wonder if you even know that there are starving miners in Colorado? Possibly not. And to you it may seem strange that a 19-year-old girl should leave her foolishness and go to go blazing out to help hardy men. It should not seem strange. Youth will always blaze like that, if given a chance.

"Flaming Youth," we've made a sorry mess of those words. But true, could be used so nobly and so truly.

The bravest, brightest fires that burn in human life can know. burn in youth. All down our history runs Youth's fiery record. Young men fighting wars, crossing seas, breaking trails —young men, children, going on crusades—girl brides following their husbands into the wilderness, making homes on desert sands and mountain peaks peopling the frontiers with pioneers—Youth always has thus

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of telling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Attwill on "Hogs"

Plain Talk at Electric Light Companies

Chairman Henry C. Attwill's plain talk to the "hogs" among the electric lighting companies of Massachusetts will have the good effect of focusing public attention upon one of the major issues which are to be fought out before the present Legislature.

The Worcester Electric Light Company, which last year paid its shareholders 24 percent on the par value of their stock, was ordered by the Public Utilities Board to reduce its rate from 7 cents to 5 cents per kilowatt hour, effective on July 15th, last.

This reduction the Worcester Company refused and refuses to make. It continues to charge 40 percent more, or 7 cents per kilowatt hour. Having obtained a District Court injunction, restraining the commission from enforcing its order, an appeal now is on its way to the highest court in the land.

Confronted by this bold attempt to override the regulatory powers of the Commonwealth, the Public Utilities Board, with the support of Governor Fuller, is asking for legislation under which gas and electric companies are to enter into contract with the State and agree to become subject to regulation and supervision.

Gas and electric companies cannot be "compelled" to enter into such a contract, but what if they refuse?

They will find themselves blocked at every turn. Further issues of their shares will not be approved. They will lose the power to take private property by right of eminent domain. They no longer will be protected from plants owned and operated by the public.

In the past two or three years, a great many electric companies, formerly owned locally, have passed to the control of absentees.

With the stock of other similar organizations, the shares of these companies have found their way into the treasuries of holding companies.

Bonds, preferred stock and various other kinds of shares have been issued by the holding companies and sold to the public, those who dominate the holding companies retaining the common or voting shares.

In many instances, control has in this way passed to holding companies outside the State. It is these companies in particular which are fighting (1) the regulatory power of Massachusetts and (2) the effort of the Governor and his Public Utility Commissioners to bring the "hogs" into line.

No one except a man of the Attwill type could have talked as plainly of the porcine gentlemen who are running the holding company game as he did and escaped without the instant cry of "demagogue."

Attwill is a distinguished attorney, respected for his "law" as well as his courage. He is a former Attorney-General of the Commonwealth, a member of one of the oldest families in Essex County.

He knows the public utilities industry inside and out. Hear what he says, not of ALL electric lighting companies but of the "hogs" among them!

"We have given to the public some of the best service and the lowest rates in the United States. We have given to their employees some of the highest wages in the country. We have given to our stockholders a fair return upon the investment of their money—but it seems to me that the limit of the private ability is gone in this state, or else I mistake very much the temper and character of the people.

"We have got to a point where, if what these companies say is true, reducing rates in Massachusetts means that our rates are confiscatory, and if they are not confiscatory, our rates are incompetent, or ineffective."

"Certainly the private companies have nothing to boast about on their rates when we CONTRAST THE RATE OF ONE PUBLICLY OWNED COMPANY AT HOLYOKE WITH THAT OF ANY PRIVATE COMPANY IN THE STATE.

"If there are no privately operated companies that can approximate the rates that the Holyoke Municipal Company is now giving—I refer to skilled men, and including a fair return upon its investment of the taxpayers' money—it would seem that the field of the private utility is gone in this state, or else I mistake very much the temper and character of the people.

"We have got to a point where, if what these companies say is true, reducing rates in Massachusetts means that our rates are confiscatory, and if they are not confiscatory, our rates are incompetent, or ineffective."

And what was said on behalf of the "hogs"?

Able attorneys called the Public Utilities bill "an attempt to forestall an adverse decision by the Supreme Court of the United States." Companies were going to be "forced at the point of a pistol" to give up their "constitutional rights." It was "an attempt to nullify the Constitution of the United States by indirection," an "attempt to evade and destroy."

To which the Commonwealth, through the Chairman of its Public Utilities Board, made reply as follows:

"The Constitutional law about these companies has to be—about is in the last analysis determined by public sentiment. A CONSTITUTIONAL LAW THAT WILL SPEAK 100 YEARS HENCE THAN THE EFFICIENCY OF THE MUNICIPAL COMPANIES AND GIVE THE PUBLIC SOMEWHERE NEAR AS LOW RATES AS THE MUNICIPAL COMPANIES OF MASSACHUSETTS HAVE, DEMONSTRATES THAT THEY CAN FURNISH.

"THE CONSTITUTIONAL LAW THAT WILL SPEAK 100 YEARS HENCE WILL BE WRITTEN BY THE BATTLE FOR THE FREEDOM OF THE SLAVES WAS WON BY THE DRED SCOTT DECISION.

"But if they didn't think that we can compete in this the Fourteenth Amendment, passed to abolish slavery, has been turned into mandatory guarantee against it.

"YOU SHOULD PASS THIS BILL, OR THE PEOPLE OF MASSACHUSETTS MUST BE SCALED THAT THEY HAVE NO PROTECTION FROM CORPORATE GREED. THEIR PROTECTION MUST DEPEND ON THE KINDNESS THE GENEROSITY, THE PHILANTHROPY OF THE SERVANTS."

From time to time the BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN has been pointing to the example of the Holyoke Electric Company—owned by the people—and asking why no private system has matched its 5-cent rate.

We are glad to have the Public Utilities Board join in this.

REPORT ON A NEW NARCOTIC CURE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE papers the other day announced an apparently certain cure for drug addicts.

There are probably 200,000 drug addicts in the United States. New hope comes to them through the discovery of a Hungarian immigrant named A. S. Horovitz. This is not a quack cure nor a money-making investment, but the news of it is contained in the calm professional report of the New York Medical Journal and Record.

It has the backing of Dr. Alexander Lambert, once president of the American Medical Association, and Dr. Frederick Tilney, president of the American Neurological Association, who are men of great authority and reputation.

They say they have observed 400 cases which have been treated with this remedy and the results are satisfactory.

The remedy is "a solution of lipoids combined with nonspecific proteins and water soluble vitamins," whatever that may mean.

It is said that after administrations varying from seventy-two hours to three weeks the patients have gone about their business apparently cured.

After a day they achieve peaceful sleep, after two or three days they eat heartily and after four days the craving for "snow" or liquor or chloral has left.

The medicine is derived from several members of the vegetable family, such as soy beans and cotton seeds. The proteins come from alfalfa or millet and the vitamins from other plant seeds. It is called narcosan and does not contain any morphine, heroin or other habit-forming drugs.

So the effects of narcosan are totally different from the distressing and even horrible influences of other methods. It causes none of those night horrors and insomnias which torment the addict under other treatments.

The patients begin to sleep peacefully the second or third nights. In a short time their appetites become excessive and they especially crave sugar. This is remarkable, as almost all drug addicts report a loss of appetite.

Besides this they digest everything they eat which helps much in the progress toward health.

Under other treatments or cures the patient often becomes hysterical, sometimes maniacal, and attacks his nurses and keepers. Many of the poorer victims commit robbery, assault or murder in order to get the drug. All this is avoided when narcosan is employed.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

MILKA SABLICH has taken the wrong road. Stormy eyes, and wild, tossed hair, a body as taut as a drawn bow string and a cry of clashing steel in her strong young throat.

"Flaming Milka" they call her, this 19-year-old girl who has flung herself, like a modern Joan of Arc, from desperate pits in Colorado again the soft, fat cities of the east.

"FOOD!" cries Milka. "FOOD FOR STARVING MINERS! FOOD FOR HELPLESS BABIES AND WOMEN! FOOD—AND GIVE ME FOOD!"

Up and down the land she goes with a great cry, her fierce young purpose burning like a torch above the sodden streets and the huddling crowds.

Burning Joan—giving her life to God and France.

Burning Milka—giving her youth for Justice and Labor.

Starving miners in Colorado—I wonder if you even know that there are starving miners in Colorado? Possibly not. And to you it may seem strange that a 19-year-old girl should leave her foolishness and go to go blazing out to help hardy men. It should not seem strange. Youth will always blaze like that, if given a chance.

"Flaming Youth," we've made a sorry mess of those words. But true, could be used so nobly and so truly.

The bravest, brightest fires that burn in human life can know. burn in youth. All down our history runs Youth's fiery record. Young men fighting wars, crossing seas, breaking trails —young men, children, going on crusades—girl brides following their husbands into the wilderness, making homes on desert sands and mountain peaks peopling the frontiers with pioneers—Youth always has thus
